

LAB ELECTRONIC TECHNICIAN

College of Engineering

Job Summary:

The Lab Electronic Technician, under the supervision of the Dean, College of Engineering, is responsible for the installation, repair, operation, and maintenance of the teaching and research electronic equipment and systems.

Primary Duties & Responsibilities

The essential functions of the job include, but are not limited to:

Install and/or assist in installation, troubleshoot, repair and maintain a variety of teaching/research complex electronic laboratory equipment; maintain shop and work order records; be responsible for the equipment, facilities, and safety in electronics teaching and research laboratories; perform other related duties as required.

Education & Experience:

- Degree in Electronics Technology or Electronics Engineering Technology
- Solid academic performance
- Strong component-level skills
- English Language communication skill
- 3 to 5 years of related and relevant experience

Applications should be sent to;

Mr. Mohammed Jameeluddin
Business Administration Officer, College of Engineering,
Alfaisal University, Email: mjameeluddin@alfaisal.edu