Human Resources Philosophy

The responsibility of the Human Resources (HR) department is to create healthy and motivating work environment characterized by openness, enthusiasm, trust, equality, and collaboration.

We believe that people are the most important pillar to any organization. As a result, work will bloom when its people thrive and struggle when its people struggle.

We believe that people can be developed to a great extent as they have creative energy that is usually partly employed.

We do believe that people contribute to the maximum if they get an opportunity to discover their full potential and use it.

We also believe that people feel committed to their work if they develop belongingness with it and they are likely to develop a feeling of belongingness if the organization takes care of them and their need satisfaction.

Therefore, we are here. We are here to address these believes.

We envision HR to be an open and trusted partner to our community and are committed to promote honesty, integrity, and trust, celebrate teamwork, encourage communication, and embrace change and innovation.

We are here to make this happen.
1.0 Introduction to the Manual

1.1 Overview

The purpose of this manual is to serve as a working guide for Human Resources staff and administrators processing HR matters at Alfaisal University. This manual will be used to govern the conduct of business and the University’s relationship with its employees.

While using this manual it must be remembered that no two situations are exactly the same. Further it is neither practical nor feasible to anticipate all possible work situations in advance and present policies, which supply complete ready-made answers. Within the framework illustrated in the manual, it is possible to address probable situations that may arise in the normal course of business and employee relations. All references in this manual to word “University” shall be deemed to be referenced to the “Alfaisal University”.

1.2 Applicable Law

The manual has been devised in accordance with statutory requirements, the University’s internal rules and its contractual obligations, subject to all laws of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. The manual clarifies the University standpoint and thereby eliminates the need for individual decision-making in day-to-day affairs.

Alfaisal University is an equal opportunity employer, which means that it provides the same opportunities for hiring, development and benefits to everyone without discriminating between age, gender, disability. Equal Opportunity Employer reflects our commitment to ensure equality, treat everyone with respect and promote diversity in the workplace.

Scope

1.3 Policy Presentation and Updating

Human Resources Department is responsible for the overall updating and management of the Policy manual. Human Resources Department is also responsible for any revisions, alterations or additions from time to time. The process of distributing this manual will be conducted and monitored by the Human Resources Department. The updating of the manual is the responsibility of Human Resources Department. The policy manual will also be available for easy reference on the University’s website and Intranet.

1.4 Organization of Manual

The Human Resources Policy Manual is organized as following:

1. Introduction to Manual
2. Role of the Human Resources & Administration Support Services Department
3. Human Resources Policies
   3.1 Manpower Planning
   3.2 Selection and Recruitment
   3.3 Remuneration, Compensation and Benefits
1.5 Policy Clarifications

The Managerial and the Supervisory employees share administrative responsibilities. The functions, which have primary responsibility for the policy manual, are referred to in the text by title or function.

All queries relating to the interpretation of the Policy Manual should be addressed to the appropriate Function Heads having primary administrative responsibility. All cases wherein any clarification pertaining to the Policy Manual is required where responsibilities are not clearly assigned amongst functions should be referred to the Human Resources Department. In cases where the Policy Manual does not suitably cover a situation, all such exceptions are to be added, addressed and dealt with by VP for Finance & Administration.

2.0 Human Resources Policies

3.1 Manpower Planning

Overview
The Manpower planning policy covers all policies and procedures, which are related to the manpower strength of the University and the process of manpower planning.

Objective
The objective of manpower planning is to assess short, medium- and long-term manpower requirements for the University based on inputs from departmental requirements and vacancies to ensure that the right quantities of qualified human Resources are employed in the University by:

➢ Planning for manpower requirements
➢ Recruiting quality talent
➢ Promoting Saudization
➢ Determine future needs of workforce and their budget

Policy Details
1. The University enhances the organization structure as necessary to ensure that it is appropriate to the achievement of the business strategy; estimates the numbers, types, and levels of job holders needed by each business unit and department to implement business plans; identifies expected vacancies; and determines how vacancies are to be filled.

2. Each Function will evaluate its manpower planning requirements in line with its specific business plans and requirements.

3. Manpower requirements will be determined based on competency gaps, exits, promotions and succession plans, change in business processes and introduction of new processes and techniques.

3.1.1 Manpower Planning Inputs

Manpower planning shall be based on the following major qualitative and quantitative inputs:

1. Existing and expected levels of operation e.g. increase in volume of business handled, existing and new projects, expansion in new colleges & businesses, outsourcing decisions, etc.

2. Approved manpower strength and Saudization objectives

3. Existing staff skills, required new skills & competencies

4. Introduction of new processes and technologies

5. New positions to be introduced

6. Overall Saudization targets

7. Under resourced functions (evidenced by high incidence of overtime)

3.1.2 Manpower Planning Key Activities

The manpower planning process includes the following key phases:

3.1.3 Operational Planning

1. The University should anticipate its workforce of the future needs based on strategic plans and the larger cycle of business planning.
2. The University’s Operational Planning cycle starts with identifying the strategic objectives and the organization’s vision of its future operations.
3. This phase involves the forecasting for longer-term manpower requirements by all the operating colleges/divisions within the University.
4. Executive Management and Human Resources Department must gather and analyze various manpower related information and drivers, discuss its impact on workforce planning, and addressing the need for the University to consider these trends and drivers, and their impact on the University’s operational and academic success.

3.1.4 Demand Analysis

1. This activity involves determining the manpower that is needed now and the manpower that will be needed for the future based on University’s business needs and operational plans.
2. Division/Department Managers should conduct and complete a manpower assessment study against operational requirements. The outcome of this study is a forecast of the numbers of employees, locations and type of required competencies.
3. University’s vision, mission, values, long term strategic goals and objectives should be always considered in the demand analysis study.

3.1.5 Supply Analysis and Forecast

1. The Supply activity involves examination of the current workforce and projecting how it may evolve in the future. This stage of the process is concerned with identifying the number, characteristics, skills and abilities of employees currently in the University and then forecasting what will happen to these employees over the period of the planning horizon.
2. The Supply activity (Supply Analysis Study) is best undertaken by Managers on regular basis and facilitated by the Human Resources Operation Manager before the Manpower Planning formulation process actually begins.
3. It is essential that the Supply Analysis is based on an inventory of the skills, abilities and characteristics of employees currently available in the University or may be extracted through a computerized Human Resource Information System or a combination of recording mechanisms.
4. The Supply Analysis will enable the Human Resources Operation Manager to:
   ▪ Assess competencies within the existing workforce, and view the competencies through multiple dimensions.
   ▪ Estimate salaries and costs associated to current workforce in the event of transfer from one location to another.
▪ Use these results to evaluate the current workforce and as a basis for modeling the future workforce.
▪ See how closely the University current workforce meets the needs of the institution.
▪ Identify a list of employees who have the required competencies for each role.
▪ Assess the gap between University’s current workforce’s competencies and the requirements of various future competencies.

5. The Supply Analysis requires the projection of the availability of employees by examining the flows of employees up, across and out of the University over the planning horizon.

6. As part of the University supply analysis, the need to develop attrition forecast is needed to allow better analysis of supply. Manpower planning personnel will need to specify assumptions based on factors specific to the University to forecast an attrition rate, including estimates of the number of employees who will separate, resign, transfer, be dismissed, or retire.

7. A general attrition rate is a calculation that includes the number of resignations + the number of transfers + the number of retirements divided by the total number of employees = the attrition rate percentage.

8. It should be recognized that it is difficult to accurately predict the future workforce. However, it should be possible to develop sufficiently reliable estimates to enable practical manpower planning process to occur.

3.1.6 Gap Analysis

1. Gap analysis (Gap Analysis Study) identifies the differences between the future workforce needs and the current workforce, determining the future gaps in the overall numbers as well as skills and abilities of employees.

2. Gap analysis involves an examination of the current supply and future forecasted demand and determining potential variances, which may be either shortages or surpluses in the workforce.

3. Human Resources Operation Manager is responsible to identify and document the gap analysis in coordination with concerned Colleges / Divisions.

3.1.7 Manpower Plan Formulation & Consolidation

1. Following the Gap Analysis process, a Manpower Plan should be developed to include action plans and potential programs to address the specific needs of the various divisions and developing options to close the identified gaps (Manpower Plan and Budget).

2. Concerned Colleges / Division should prepare operational plans for their functions based on overall business plans.

3. Human Resources Operation Manager shall provide the necessary support to the Colleges / Divisions to facilitate the manpower planning process.

4. Human Resources Operation Manager shall review the manpower plans and proposed solutions to ensure that the final manpower plans are in line with established policies and procedures.

5. Human Resources Manpower Recruitment & Staffing Manager shall be responsible for the compilation of Departmental Manpower Plans into the Alfaisal University overall annual Manpower Plan.

6. The overall manpower plan will then be consolidated for the University by the Human Resources Recruitment & Staffing Manager will and the final manpower plans for each function will be drawn up.

7. Final manpower plans and budgets will be approved as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.
8. The approved manpower plans shall form the basis for recruitment, exits, training, career development and succession plans, promotions, transfers, etc. for the coming year.

9. Human Resources Recruitment & Staffing Manager will be responsible to monitor the implementation of approved manpower plans.

3.1.8 Planning Period

1. Manpower planning must take place annually between November and January in order to compile the manpower planning plans and budgets.

2. The manpower plan covers one year.

3.1.9 Manpower Plan Contents

1. The annual Manpower Plan shall contain the number of human Resources required for each job title and function, together with the corresponding skills, competencies, experience required as well as when the respective Resources are required.

2. The approved Manpower Plan that has not been utilized during the year will be carried forward to the forthcoming year provided that the concerned Colleges / Divisions confirm their requirements.

3.1.10 Benchmarking

1. The Human Resources Recruitment & Staffing Manager will be responsible to conduct or participate in a survey to estimate benchmark manpower productivity ratios in the competitive industry.

2. The Human Resources Operation Manager will also estimate changes within the organization, like introduction of new technology, processes and systems that could impact manpower productivity and any associated changes in the skill/competency requirements.

3. The Human Resources Operation Manager will revise the manpower planning assumptions accordingly

3.1.11 Amendments to Approved Manpower Plans

1. Manpower Plan may be reviewed according to business requirements.

2. Department Heads shall review their departmental manpower status and reconsider manpower requirements for the next six months in consultation with respective Deans of Colleges/Division Heads.

3. Following recommendation from the concerned respective Deans of Colleges / Division Heads, additional/revised requirements shall be submitted to the Human Resources Recruitment & Staffing Manager for review and approval as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

4. The number of employees in any job title should not exceed the number of positions specified for that grade in the approved manpower plan of the concerned College / Division.

5. The Department Head with the approval of the Dean of College / Division Head may transfer a position authorized in the Manpower plan allocated for his/her Department to another position within the same Department in accordance to the following conditions:
   ▪ The transfer is in the interest of work requirements of the Department.
   ▪ The original position shall be deemed as cancelled as soon as the transfer decision is approved.
- The created position should have an equivalent grade as of the original position.
- Where such a transfer is required to be made across College / Division, proper approval is required as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

3.2 Recruitment & Selection

Overview
This policy covers all policies and procedures, which are related to the Selection & Recruitment to meet manpower requirements of the University by sourcing candidates with the appropriate qualifications, skills and competencies.

Objective
The purpose of the Selection & Recruitment process is to standardize the conduct of Selection recruiting and to achieve the following objectives:

▪ Establish fair, consistent and timely procedures to recruit and select candidates.
▪ Ensure that vacant positions are filled in a timely manner.
▪ Promote a positive public image about the University through the application of the Merit Principle, Transparency, Respect and Professionalism Principle.
▪ Ensure that an adequate selection of candidates is attracted to fill vacancies.
▪ Ensure that qualified and capable candidates are selected to execute the position duties and responsibilities after successfully passing the selection process.

Policy details
1. The sourcing and recruitment of high-quality candidates is crucial to the continued success of the University.
2. The University is committed to recruit and select outstanding faculty and staff in a fair and consistent manner.
3. The University gives priority to the recruitment of Saudi Arabian Nationals for administrative positions.

3.2.1 Recruitment Criteria

1. Recruitment will be made for the following major reasons:
   ▪ Replacement of existing vacancies.
   ▪ Additional manpower requirements as per the approved Manpower Plan.
2. Recruited candidates should satisfy the following conditions:
   ▪ Be a Saudi national or from a Saudi mother and if not available, other nationalities will be considered if the requested position is not required position for Saudis as per the Ministries policies
   ▪ The candidate should hold the appropriate qualifications and experience, which are as per the approved job description for the position. He/she should produce the necessary documents that confirm his/her qualifications and practical experience, authenticated as appropriate.
   ▪ The candidate should be of good conduct and behavior.
   ▪ The candidate should not have been previously convicted with a penalty restricting his/her freedom for a crime or was convicted for breach of honor or honesty crimes.
   ▪ The candidate should not have been dismissed previously for disciplinary reasons.
   ▪ The candidate age is not less than 18 Gregorian years as confirmed by a birth certificate/passport.
3.2.2 Recruitment Budget

1. The recruitment budget will specify the numbers of employees required, their grades, place of recruitment, sourcing options and assessment methods.

2. The recruitment budget would include the cost assessment of the entire manpower plan, including cost of salary and benefits, overhead costs, recruitment costs, travel for interview costs, advertising costs, incidental costs like visa processing for expatriates, relocation costs, etc.

3. These costs will be factored in to each function’s budget under the manpower costs head and then in to the overall budget of the University.

4. The recruitment plan shall be consolidated by the Human Resources Recruitment & Staffing Manager and approved as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

5. The Approved Recruitment Plan shall form the basis for conducting all the recruiting activities.

6. Heads of colleges/Departments must provide HR with yearly expected positions and estimated packages as per the salary structure

3.2.3 Recruitment Types

2. For Adjunct and Ajeer Contracts: Concerned College/Dep. who are requesting the position need to submit candidate's details and documents using the online form prior to sending the needed contract to the HR Dep.

3. Human Resources Operation Manager shall review the Employee Requisition Forms before being processed, to ensure that the requests are in compliance with the approved Manpower Plan.

3.2.5 Job Description and Person Specification

1. Each position to be recruited for must have a proper job description (Job Description Form) to attract people based on clear job expectations and establish test and assessments designs to determine the most qualified candidates.

2. In case of new positions being created or added, new job descriptions should be developed for these new positions.

3. Human Resources Planning and Dev. Manager in conjunction with the concerned Department Heads shall draft and update Job Descriptions for all positions and develop job profiles including competencies, experience, qualifications and applicable grades for the positions to be recruited.

4. Human Resources Planning and Dev. Manager shall conduct regular reviews on all job descriptions to ensure that they capture the full job accountabilities and job specifications.

5. No applicant shall be recruited or employed in position titles not included in the Classification and Grading Structure unless formal job descriptions and pay grades have been approved by the Human Resources Department Director.

6. Official position titles and job classification, grading numbers shall be used in all personnel, financial, and other HR Systems and records.
3.2.6 Job Evaluation and Classification

All regular Administrative, Service & Support positions are equitably evaluated and classified and assigned to a salary range unless specifically exempted. Human Resources Department is responsible for job evaluation and classification of all regular, non-faculty positions. Positions with similar duties, similar set of skills and responsibilities are usually grouped together in the same job class. All evaluated positions will be assigned a pay grade. In determining the pay grade assignment, the position evaluation process will focus on essential functions, knowledge, skills, and abilities required to perform the job competently.

In order to make such an evaluation, Human Resources must receive a completed Job Description from the concerned hiring Manager prior to posting a new or revised position.

3.2.7 Pre-Requisites for Recruitment

3.2.8 Recruitment Sources
In order to source, select and recruit appropriate candidates according to the approved Manpower & Recruitment Plan, the following sourcing options shall be sought:

Internal Sourcing
- Existing Employees
  1. In case of vacancies, first priority will be given to internal aspirants from within the same Function. Candidates from across the University are allowed to apply for the vacancy.
  2. The responsibility to announce such vacancies will rest with the Human Resources Dep.
  3. Every internal applicant must seek his Department Head’s permission before the application is sent to Human Resources Recruitment Dep.

- Applicants Databank
  1. Applicant's databank includes individual’s CVs and employment applications applied for previous opening vacancies and were not considered to be successful candidates.
  2. Human Resources Recruitment & Staffing Section is responsible to keep and update their records to refer back to it when required.

- Employee referrals
  1. Employees are encouraged to invite friends and contacts to apply for suitable vacant positions.

- Former Employees:
  1. Individuals used to work for Alfaisal University and left on good manners and have had good performance records.

- Summer Trainees
  1. When college students are hired as trainees during college summer vacations, they are introduced to the nature of work and trained accordingly.
2. During the training period some trainees might develop a desire to be hired after graduation, thus they are evaluated and assessed for suitability and efficiency.

- Employment of Relatives & Nepotism Policy

No administrator, officer, faculty, or employee shall participate, either directly or indirectly, in a decision to appoint or hire an employee of the University, including regular, temporary, and part-time appointments, who is related to such person within the fourth degree by blood or marriage. It also shall be a violation of this policy for an employee to supervise, either directly or indirectly, the work of another employee who is related within such fourth degree, unless the supervisory role is specifically approved by the President of the University.

A relative within the fourth degree includes, but is not limited to spouse, child, grandchild, great-grandchild, great great-grandchild, parent, grandparent, great grandparent, great great-grandparent, brother/sister, aunt/uncle, great aunt/uncle, niece/nephew, grandniece/nephew and cousin. All relationships are included, whether full-, half-, step-, foster-, adopted, or in-law.

External Sourcing

External sourcing could be done through any of the following avenues:

Advertising / Media

Human Resources Operation Manager is responsible to announce vacancies through the following means:

1. Press, local and national papers, trade and professional journals.

2. Internet advertisements announced on the Internet where applications are sent via e-mail.

3. This method speeds-up processing and circulation between the Human Resources and the concerned requesting Departments.

4. An advertisement should include the following essential information:
   - The settings of the advertised position and relevant information (location, organizational entity…etc.)
   - Description of the vacant position (tasks, responsibilities …etc.)
   - Successful applicant's specifications (skills, abilities …etc.)
   - Contact information.
   - Specific qualifications and experience, both academic and professional, required for the position.
   - Conditions of employment (i.e. nature of work, hours of work …etc.)
   - Opportunities for professional development and fringe benefits.

5. Effective advertisements must satisfy the following:
   - The advertisement should be distinctive in its language and appearance.
HR can seek the PR and Marketing Department’s help with the advertisement design and newspaper placements.

- When specifying required qualifications, the advertisement should concentrate on the major qualifications that are absolutely essential to the position. This should be done by specifying job-related keywords and terminologies that would ensure only qualified applicants would apply.
- The advertisement should mirror a good reflection of the University in order to attract the best applicants through highlighting the University’s reputation, size…etc.
- The advertisement should highlight the major benefits that the job offers, such as the remuneration package.
- The advertisement should clearly state the required documents to submit and should clearly define the deadline for submittal.

- Executive Search Consultants “Headhunters”
  1. This method of networking would be utilized to attract executive applicants for top management positions for the University.

- Educational Institutes
  1. This is considered as a cost-effective method, where fresh graduates are recruited from reputable schools / universities, developed, and groomed by Alfaisal University.

- Career Fairs
  1. Career fairs offer good opportunities to job seekers seeking career employment opportunities with the University. Career fairs also provide a pool of candidates to the University.

- Recruiting Agencies
  1. Private consultants might be solicited to assist in the identification and referral of applicants for certain positions, such as professional or specialized technical positions where it has been determined that suitably qualified applicants with specialized skills cannot be attracted by more conventional and traditional approaches.

- Labor Offices
  1. The Human Resources Recruitment Officer may approach and source candidates from the Saudi Labor Offices as they are considered important sources of selection & recruitment for certain lower level jobs.

3.2.9 Screening and Selection

1. Human Resources Recruitment Officer is responsible for the initial screening of the CVs to filter those CV’s that do not meet the basic requirements of the job description.
2. Human Resources Recruitment personnel involved in the screening process should be equipped with the correct skills in order to make right decisions. An erroneously rejected CV would be in effect depriving the University of a potential resource.
3. Human Resources Recruitment & Staffing Section should focus education background, nature and years of experience, and skills and abilities in screening of the applications submitted for each position.
4. CV’s that do not meet the basic requirements and can fulfill the future requirements of other departments should be kept in Human Resources database for future use.
5. Selection will be based on the candidate meeting the job criteria as set by the job description.

6. Selection of candidates shall include the following screening processes:
   - Receipt of Application Forms/CVs
   - Screening and Short-listing
   - Interviewing and Reference Checks
   - Testing

7. The screened candidates will be interviewed by the Interviewing and Selection Panel. The Panel is comprised based on the level of the position however always includes an HR representative, the position’s supervisor and a co-worker or member of the related department if needed.

8. Each member of the Interviewing and Selection Panel shall document the outcome (Interview Assessment Form) or each interviewee and complete the following categories:
   - Recommended for selection (one candidate only) for each Job.
   - Alternate(s) – one or more (stand-by)
   - Rejected

9. The most qualified and best-suited candidate should be selected based on interview results.

10. If more than one candidate has received equal score or have obtained the same results in the interview, the following criteria should be the base of selection:
    - Education level;
    - Years of experience;
    - Training received; and
    - Quality of experience.

3.2.9.1 Candidate Selection Expenses

Candidates called for interview from outside Riyadh or Saudi Arabia shall receive the following entitlements, if the distance exceeds 200 KM from University’s work place:

3.2.10 Remuneration, Compensation & Benefits

Overview
The policy covers the remuneration, allowances, benefits and reimbursements provided to employees and the rules that govern their application.

Objective
The objective of this policy is to maintain employees’ remuneration, allowances, and benefits at a level sufficient to attract and retain staff of the caliber required for achievement of the University’s business objectives, and to motivate employee performance and development by relating the financial rewards of each employee to the value of the employee’s contribution to the success of the business.

Policy Details
It is the responsibility of the Human Resources Department to:

1. Administer pay programs equitably and in accordance with line of business goals and parameters, and recognize individual performance on a timely basis.
2. Ensure that salaries are administered appropriately within the salary grade associated with particular jobs.
3. Understand the overall remuneration, allowances, benefits policies and how the application of these policies can vary depending on the job calls and salary grade to which a position is assigned.
4. Conduct regular external salary surveys as tools to determine the salary levels and benefits required to attract and retain its employees based on market competitiveness.

3.2.10.1 Mode of Salary Payment

1. Salaries are paid on monthly basis in Saudi Arabian Riyals by bank transfer to employee’s designated bank account.
2. For salary payment, a calendar year is deemed to contain 360 days, and a calendar month to contain 30 days.
3. All employees shall receive slips/statements showing components of their salaries and amounts after the transfer of their salaries to their banks’ accounts. The salary slip is available in the HR Self-Service Portal where employees can review, print and download the copies.

3.2.10.2 Remuneration, Allowances, and Benefits Structure

The structure of remuneration, allowances, benefits for all employees are comprised of the following components:

I. Basic Salary
   1. The purpose of this allowance is to reward employees for the professional expertise and value they bring to their jobs.
   2. Basic salary is determined and based on the University’s job classification system, grading structure and salary scale, individual qualifications, past experience, and the job title / position within the University.
   3. Basic Salary is the guaranteed 12-month basic salary which usually represents the monthly salary without any other allowances.
4. Basic salary will determine the funding of the end of service benefits, GOSI contributions, salary adjustments, merit increments and performance bonuses.

5. All salaries due to employees are paid at the end of the value month. No salaries shall be paid outside the monthly payroll except for those employees who are:
   - Leaving the University during the month; or
   - Departing on approved leave, and require payment in advance.

6. The employee’s monthly entitlements shall be paid according to the following equation:

   \text{No. Actual work days} \times (\text{Basic Salary} + \text{other cash allowances if applicable}) / 30 \text{ Days}

II. Housing Allowance
1. The University pays housing allowance or might provide furnished accommodations and housing to assist its employees in bearing the costs of accommodation.
2. In offering the Housing Allowance to an employee, the University reserves the right to either assign the employee to University Housing or pay him/her equivalent cash housing allowance.
3. Employees who are not provided with actual housing will be paid a monthly housing allowance, which is equivalent to 3 months basic salary per annum or 25% of the employee’s annual base salary.
4. Size of accommodation / housing varies depending on employee’s grade and the size of his family.
5. Housing allowance is subject to a minimum of SR 15,000 per annum.
6. If a couple was hired at the Alfaisal University, housing allowance will be provided to one of the couples. It will be provided to the employee who gets the higher salary.

III. Transportation Allowance
1. The purpose of this allowance is to enable the employee to cover expenses incurred in commuting to and from his/her place of work.
2. The Transportation allowance represents 10% of the monthly base salary of an employee and is subject to a minimum of SR 500 per month.
3. The University reserves the right to provide employees with either transportation allowance in kind or in cash. The transportation allowance mentioned above will cater for fuel, maintenance, and driver.
4. The University may provide its executive level employees with cars for both business and private purposes.

IV. Mobile Allowance
1. The university might provide the following monthly fixed mobile phone cash allowance when needed:
   - Executive Management Band: SAR 2,000
   - Management & Senior Professionals Band: SAR 1,500
   - Supervisory, Professionals & Skilled Band: SAR 1,000
   - Clerical, Semi-Skilled & Support Band: SAR 500
2. The mobile allowance is intended to cover expenses of business-related calls.
3. The mobile allowance is a job-related allowance and will not be made available when the employee is no longer handling the assignments of the job.
4. Prior approval from the supervisor / line manager is required
5. The Human Resources Director and concerned Department Heads should review and determine all positions that are eligible for mobile phone allowance on annual basis

4.2.1 Overtime Pay

- When a non-exempt employee works authorized overtime, he or she is paid at one and a half (1-1/2) times the employee's regular rate of basic salary.
- The University may compensate employees with additional leave days in lieu of overtime hours.
- If the overtime requested exceeds the overtime budget, it will be compensated as additional leave days in lieu of overtime hours.
- Overtime hours worked is rounded to the nearest quarter of one hour.
- The compensatory time (Additional leave days) must be used within 90 days of the date in which it was earned. If the days were not used within 90 days, they will not be cashed or carried on for the next year, neither will be considered at the final settlement.
- Exempt employees do not receive overtime pay.

5. Procedure:

- A supervisor/Manager must authorize overtime before the start of the overtime work (preferably one week prior) and take the approval of the Head of the Department in line with the approved budget with expected hours of overtime needed. CC to HR
- After overtime work is finished, the form will be resubmitted by the Supervisor/Manager to the Head of the Dep. with the actual overtime worked.
- Justification of differences in requested hours and actual hours should be approved by HR and HoD.
- After approval of the Head, request will go to HR for final approval for calculation and process then to Finance Dep. for review for final auditing
- Overtime request should be submitted before the 15th of the next month.
- Late submission (after more than 90 days of the overtime done) will not be processed.
- Human Resources department:
  - Will implement the policy and provide advice to Department Heads regarding the scheduling and utilization of staff.
  - The payroll supervisor will:
    - Monitor and review the overtime and report any abuse or miscalculation.
    - Compare between budget amount and actual amount
    - Approve the overtime.
  - Review the attendance record to prove the extra working hours.
- Finance department will receive and process payment of overtime in accordance to the policy.

VI. Continuous Service Award

1. The University provides service awards to its employees based on length of services to maximize loyalty towards the institution and appreciate employees who contribute in the form of sustained performance and continuous service.
2. For the first five years of continuous service an employee is given an award/gift equivalent to SR 3,000.

3. The amount allocated for the award / gift is increased by SR 3,000 for every five-year period of continuous service put in by the employee (i.e. 5, 10, 15, 20, 20, and 30 years, etc.).

3.3 Performance Management System

Overview

This policy covers the rules, standards and guidelines that govern the University’s philosophy of managing performance of individuals, providing performance feedback, planning personal development and performance increments and rewards applicable to University’s employees.

Objective

The objective of Performance Management System is to drive individual performance, facilitate employees’ personal and career development, training needs, merit increments and performance bonuses, promotions, managing poor performance, transfers, and disciplinarily actions.

Policy Details

1. The University uses performance management as a powerful tool to translate its business plans into actions and to develop the organization culture necessary for realization of the business strategy and objectives. The performance assessment system will cover all full-time permanent employees.

2. Department Managers and Supervisors have an obligation to set performance goals and their relative weight to their employees in line of the position’s critical job accountabilities, competencies and performance.

3. Managers discuss and explain their objectives, performance factors, competencies, measures and their relative weighting with their employees.

4. Department Managers and Supervisors have the ultimate responsibility to ensure that the development of employee’s goals and measures are well tied to the overall institutional and departmental goals.

5. Department Managers and Supervisors monitor performance and communicate openly with their employees throughout the performance cycle.

6. Employee performance shall be assessed on ongoing basis and the overall performance must be consolidated at the end of the year.

7. Performance appraisal should be carried out in an open, fair, frank and orderly manner and be seen as a positive experience for the employee being assessed and the reviewer.

8. To be eligible for the annual performance review and promotion, an employee must have been with the University for at least six months.

9. Although Alfaisal University does not support the concept of an employee having more than 1 supervisor, but if an employee worked under the supervision of more than one manager, feedback should be sought and consolidated from multiple sources and ratings will be prorated in accordance with time spent with each manager.

10. Performance appraisal shall be officially evaluated once a year at the end of the March, regardless of when the employee starts.

11. Human Resources Department should ensure that performance goals and targets are aligned with University targets and expectations.

12. Human Resources Employee Relations Officer should ensure that each employee is receiving his/her performance review on time.

13. Both the manager and the employee should sign the performance appraisal template.

14. The performance appraisal system should be continually reviewed, monitored and enhanced by the Human Department to meet the demands and requirements of the University’s business plans and goals.
3.3.1 The Performance Appraisal Cycle

Performance Management Process (PMP) is not a once-a-year activity. It is rather a continuous, three-phase cycle of planning, managing, and reviewing performance. Within each phase, the supervisor and the employee will both have responsibilities. Each year, Supervisors will be required to conduct annual performance reviews on their employees.

- Planning Phase: The process starts in April each year. The employee and supervisor review objectives from the operating plan for their department, division, or college and determine how the employee will contribute. The supervisor and employee work together to develop and document key work goals and performance expectations for the coming year.

- Develop and Manage Performance: The performance plan provides a standard for measuring individual progress throughout the year. The PMP also provides objective criteria, or ‘Elements’ to ensure performance expectations are clear. Throughout the cycle, supervisors and employees will track and document progress and accomplishments as they occur and revise plans as necessary during performance review meetings. The Development plan should be used during this period to assign development goals based on identified improvement suggestions. These performance review meetings should be held once every quarter. Surprises will be eliminated if employees have already received clear and consistent feedback during periodic performance review meetings with their supervisors.

- Evaluate Performance (End of the Year): In March, at the end of the annual cycle, the information obtained during the year is gathered together, including employee self-assessment and multi-source feedback data. The data is summarized to develop a complete assessment on what has been accomplished, and how results have been achieved. Supervisor and employee review and agree on final performance results.

3.3.2 The Performance Appraisal Methods

1. The University’s Performance Appraisal System is a combination of three appraisal methods applied to three different job categories, these methods are:

   - Performance Objectives: The statements that describe job specific and measurable actions to be achieved within a set timeframe.

   - Performance Factors: Performance factors are pre-defined competencies that are used to assess the performance of employees. The Performance Factors are generic pre-defined factors to capture the most important performance criteria of the job. These Performance Factors can be changed as the direction and strategy of the University changes, accordingly the most relevant competencies are measured and reinforced.

   - Competencies: The Knowledge, Skills, Abilities, and Behaviors necessary to perform a job effectively. Employees’ competencies are assessed simply in terms of the displayed level of competencies in carrying out their job tasks and responsibilities

2. The following table shows these components and the targeted level of employees, their job grades, weights and corresponding performance appraisal forms.

3.3.3 Rating Scale

1. The sum total of the individual ratings against each factor determines the overall assessment score.
2. The overall assessment of the employee’s performance in the annual assessment report is marked with one of the following rating scales based on the total assessment score.
3. Employee performance rating will be on a five-point scale, these are:

   ▪ Exceptional Performer (EP): The employee has far exceeded his/her agreed objectives and performance standards. 120+%. Exceptional Performer should not exceed 5% of total headcount.

   ▪ Top Performer (TP): The employee has consistently met his/her objectives to the agreed performance standards. In some cases he/she has achieved more than his/her agreed objectives and to a higher standard than expected. 100-120%. Top Performers should not exceed 30% of total headcount.

   ▪ Regular Performer (RP): The employee has achieved the agreed objectives to the agreed performance standards. This is the minimum performance expected from every employee in the University. 90-99%. Regular Performers should not exceed 40% of total headcount.

   ▪ Below Regular Performer (BRP): The employee has met some or most of his/her objectives to the expected performance standards. In a few areas he/she did not meet his/her objectives and / or agreed standards. 70-89%. Below Regular Performers should not exceed 20% of total headcount.

   ▪ Poor Performer (PP): The employee has not met most or all of his/her objectives and expected performance standards. If this level of performance continues, the employee should be managed out. Below 70%. Poor Performers should not exceed 5% of total headcount.

4. Employee performance will be assessed against each performance objective / factor in the performance appraisal. Employees will be rated against relevant criteria between levels ‘Exceptional Performer’ to ‘Poor Performer’ in accordance with the definitions of levels of achievement given in the forms applicable as per the grade.
3.3.4 Employee Self-Assessment

1. Employees must complete their self-assessment portion of the Performance Appraisal Templates based on their achievements during the entire performance appraisal period.

2. Concerned managers and supervisors must ensure that their subordinates have completed the self-assessment portion of the Performance Appraisal Template before conducting the final end of year appraisal meeting.

3.3.5 Review of Performance Appraisal Ratings

1. Performance ratings will be reviewed by the next higher authority with an objective of ensuring fairness and uniformity of evaluation standards.

2. The Dean of Colleges / Division Heads will have to review the performance rating to ensure fairness and uniformity of evaluation standards.

3. Human Resources Department has the authority to harmonize and ratify the performance ratings.

3.3.6 Performance Appraisal Grievance

1. Employees have the right to voice performance grievances through the grievance handling process.

2. If an employee disagrees with his/her performance appraisal rating and cannot resolve the disagreement with his/her immediate supervisor, the employee may initiate a grievance request.

3. No employee shall suffer from any unfair treatment because of the fact that he/she has presented a grievance or complaint under the provisions of this policy.

3.3.7 Development Plan

1. Immediate Superior of the concerned employee is accountable for ensuring that the personal development plan is defined as part of the performance dialogue.

2. Personal development plans should highlight employee’s strength as well as areas for improvement.

3. Personal development plans are critical inputs in designing training requirements and determining training priorities.

4. If an employee worked under the supervision of more than one superior, personal development plans will be consolidated from multiple sources.

5. Human Resources Department is responsible for reviewing employees’ development plan, defining ways of implementing employee development plan through proper training, more responsibilities, etc.

6. Human Resources Department shall include the employees’ development plans as part of the University’s overall training plans and budgets.

3.3.8 Performance Increments

1. Performance salary increase will be considered annually following the completion of performance appraisals in order to recognize good performance.

2. The University rewards efficient and highly productive employees and provides salary increments as applicable.

3. The decision to award increments will be dependent upon the employees’ annual performance appraisal ratings.
4. Increments will be given only when the performance rating of the employee is at least Regular Performer (RPs) and above.

5. Increments will be awarded to employees based on the summary recommendation prepared by the Human Resources Department in line with the University’s Compensation Structure and approved as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

6. Increment shall not be granted automatically to an employee because he/she has been in a position for a lengthy period of time. A salary increase must be earned through proven track of good performance.

7. Performance increments (If any) shall be effective from the 1st of Sep. of every year.

8. Performance increments shall not exceed 10% of basic salary. In case a more percentage was requested, it should be for valid reasons with documentations and should be recommended from the Director/Dean, reviewed and recommended from HR Director, recommended from the VP of Administration and Finance and approved from the President.

9. Only employees who have completed six months as of 31st of Aug. are entitled for performance increment for the same year.

10. The overall salary after merit increments should not exceed the position’s grade salary range.

11. Performance increments will automatically increase in housing and transportation allowances.

12. A salary may be adjusted for certain employees after successful completion of a probationary period provided such increment had been specifically provided for in the initial offer letter or the employment contract. Approval of such increments should be dealt with as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

3.4 Career Development and Succession Planning

Overview
This policy covers the preparation of a "back up" plan for any separation of individuals occupying critical faculty and non-faculty positions.

Objective
The objective of this policy is to ensure operational continuity and job satisfaction by grooming and developing potential employees, accelerating their progression opportunities and allowing them to smoothly take-over higher and key positions when the need arise.

Policy Details
The Succession Planning process serves the business by expanding the pool of available candidates from which future positions can be filled through the development of Resources from within University.

3.4.1 Career Development Key Activities

Defining the Competencies
1. Career Management Committee/Board will approve the job families and the career ladder.
2. For each job family, there shall be clear definition of the recommended competencies within each job family competency matrix.
3. Department Heads shall assume the responsibility to build awareness on the recommended competencies to their employees.

Nominations
1. Minimum eligibility for nomination to Potential Assessment is performance ratings of Top Performers (TPs) in the two preceding performance management cycles.
2. All employees who satisfy the condition mentioned above are eligible to be nominated by the concerned Department Heads for the potential assessment.

Potential Assessment
1. Career Management Committee / Board with the help of Human Resources Training & Development Supervisor shall be responsible for the design and implementation of the potential assessment process.
2. Career Management Committee / Board will carry out potential assessment process.
3. Potential assessment process shall be communicated to each of the nominees at least one month in advance along with details of the preparatory work required.
4. The potential assessment shall focus on evaluating and defining the employee’s level of maturity on the competencies as defined in the competency matrix, applicable to his/her job family.
5. Number of employees through the Potential Assessment process will depend upon the pre-determined number of positions that are likely to be available within each College/Division in the next three years.

Annual Review
Career Management Committee / Board will review the progress of Accelerated Development Plan on an annual basis.
3.4.2 Identifying Key & Critical Positions

1. The Human Resources Department shall make a list of the "Key & Critical Positions" in coordination with Department Heads.

2. The list of such positions must cover all those positions where the skills are critical for the continuation of Alfaisal University operations, either at the academic level or at the non-academic level.

3. The identification of potential successors does not guarantee automatic promotion to the targeted positions.

4. The following criteria should help Department Heads to identify the key positions within their departments:
   - Managerial positions: Positions with supervisory responsibilities.
   - Impact: Positions that have critical financial or business / operational impact.
   - Supply Shortage: Positions that are difficult to recruit.
   - Specialized Competencies and Critical Tasks: Positions that require specialty or unique expertise and would stop critical action from taking place if they were left vacant.

3.4.3 Identifying Successors

1. Identifying the potential successors for each identified position requires a Committee or a Leadership Board to nominate employees who are to be considered succession-planning candidates (successors) for key positions.

2. Selected successors should demonstrate high potential/ability that should enable them to achieve success at senior and executive levels.

3. It’s not necessary that a successor has to be in the same Department of the identified position.

4. At least two successors shall be identified for each of the critical positions based on the following criteria:
   - The overall performance review must show exceptional performance
   - To satisfy the minimum educational/ experience criteria required for the job/ position
   - Have been with the University for a Minimum of 2 years.

3.4.4 Developing Successors

1. Each candidate will have a detailed individual development plan (IDP), jointly developed by the candidate and his/her mentor with input from the candidate's supervisor and Human Resources Department, that reflects the candidate's developmental needs.

2. Individual Development Plans (IDP) may be reviewed by a Committee or a Leadership Board or Top Management on periodic basis.

3. The candidate's individual development plan should reflect managerial, leadership, operational, and/or other technical needs with an associated timeframe for completion. The mentor should communicate the candidate's progress to the top management / committee.

4. Succession development plans need to be very specific on what education, experience, training, targeted behaviors or skills the person should have before he/she become ready; plus, when and how the University is going to ensure they get it.

5. Succession planning development should require successors to take on special projects within / outside their current job to ensure the experience is gained as quickly as possible.

6. When preparing Succession Plans, the Committee or the Leadership Board or Executive Management should review each candidate’s promotion potential in terms of:
- readiness for the next step and additional experience required.
- the individual's geographic mobility (if applicable).
- the ability of the individual to satisfy operational and business needs (as opposed to personal career ambitions) through the move being considered.

3.5 Training and Development

Overview
This policy of this Department aims to provide understanding and guidance to the employees of the University with respect to various training and development schemes available to them.

Objective
The policy aims at continuously developing employee competencies and skills to enable higher levels of performance for achieving business objectives.

Policy details
1. The University is committed to assist employees in identifying the current and potential training and development needs.
2. All full time staff members are eligible to receive training based on University’s business strategy and staff member’s performance and potential.
3. A training strategy will be formulated and revised every year by the Human Resources Department. The strategy will outline the objectives and targets of training for the year.
4. Training needs will be assessed at the end of fiscal year, i.e. once a year for all employees, following the performance appraisal process.
5. Annual training calendar shall be prepared based on University wide individual development priorities and the periodic training needs assessment.
6. The University expects that each employee will regularly appraise his/her own training needs and take necessary steps to keep his/her skills and knowledge up to date.
7. Evaluation of training effectiveness will be done at the end of the training program to collect and analyze data related to training design and delivery.

3.5.1 Training Cycle

Training and development shall follow a four-stage process, as follows:
- Training needs analysis
- Training Planning
- Design and delivery of training programs
- Assessment of training effectiveness

3.5.2 Training Need Analysis

1. Identifying training and development needs, and helping individuals to improve their performance, are key responsibilities for Department managers.
2. Employees should also take part in the identification of their training needs.
3. There are different inputs used to identify training requirements and opportunities, the primary inputs are:
- Performance Appraisal Results: where training is initiated when the job performance must be improved to fulfill the requirement of the current position.

- Succession Planning Recommendations: where training is initiated when the job performance must be improved to fulfill the requirement of a future position for long term successors.

- Request for Promotion: where training is initiated when an employee is or intends to be promoted to position with greater responsibilities requiring higher level or new competencies.

- Business (Ad-hoc) Requirements: training will be initiated in the following events:
  - College / Division objectives require targeted training
  - Changes in strategy, objectives and/or targets
  - Procedures are changed or new regulation affects the University’s initiatives and activities
  - New technology, process, material or equipment is introduced
  - New employee is hired and requires specialty training

4. All Departments should conduct a formal Training Needs Analysis (TNA) once per year. This TNA will be the base of objective training requirements and priorities.

5. The annual TNA determines current employee skill levels, gap between current employee skill, knowledge and attitude levels, the skills/capabilities required for the future, type of required training within the University to support the achievement of business needs.

6. Human Resources Department will assist and support all concerned Department Managers in conducting and completing the training needs analysis process.

3.5.3 Prioritization of Training requirements

1. Training priorities shall be defined based on the training need analysis conducted earlier, personal development plan inputs coming out of the performance management system and the entry level manpower intake plan through apprentice and other trainee schemes.

2. Prioritize the training requirements is based on the following factors:
   - Employee’s degree of proficiency for the pre-defined competency
   - Level of Impact on business
   - Alignment with the divisional / departmental objectives
   - Frequency of performing tasks that relate to missing competencies
   - Number of employees who need the same training
   - Priority level (High, Moderate, low)

3.5.4 Training Plan and Budget

1. Based upon the annual TNA, the Human Resources Department in consultation with concerned Department Managers should produce an annual Training Plan in advance of the annual budgeting process.

2. Human Resources Department should translate the training requirements into behavioral, technical and general management programs.
3. Training plan and budget for the University are prepared during July of each fiscal year for the successive year.

4. Based on the training plan, Human Resources Department shall prepare a training budget that includes a cost estimation of the following:
   - Trainer costs
   - Trainee costs
   - Certification cost
   - Facilities costs
   - Board and lodging costs
   - Travel costs
   - Licensing costs
   - Cost of development of training material, stationary, etc.
   - Other miscellaneous costs

5. The training plan and budget shall be reviewed and approved as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

3.5.5 Design of Training Calendar

1. Human Resources Department is responsible to develop the training calendar by listing the various programs that need to be conducted and defining the objective, participation, topics to be covered and expected results for each of the training programs.

2. Based on the availability of Resources and competence, decision needs to be taken on in-house vis-à-vis external training delivery.

3. Training design, content development and the method of training delivery for each of the programs will be finalized keeping in view the recommended objective, participation, expected results and the budget allocation.

4. Training Calendar shall have the required mix of technical training and management development initiatives.

3.5.6 Training Nominations

1. The training calendar shall comprise of both external as well as internal programs, shall be drawn based on approval of the annual training budgets and circulated to all the Department heads.

2. Each Department is expected to finalize the nominations to the programs published in the calendar within 30 days from the time they receive the calendar.

3. Human Resources Department will accept the nominations on cross-referring to the employees' personal development plans.

4. Departmental Heads shall make necessary arrangements to relieve the nominated employees for training.

5. Nominee shall not be attending more than one training every 2 contractual year, unless it is ultimately necessary and shall be approved from the VP of Admin. And Finance.

3.6 Work Schedules

Overview
The Work Schedules policy covers start and end of work and a description of different work schedules.

Objective
The work schedules policy envisages establishing work conditions and timings to be followed in the University as standard procedures.

Policy Details

3.6.1 Regular Schedule
The normal workweek consists of a total of (40) forty hours a week, covering (5) five days a week, Sunday through Thursday followed by two days off with pay, Friday and Saturday. The start and end hours of regular daily work will be from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM including lunch break. The hours and days are based upon the business needs and requirements of the department, and may vary from one department to another.

Flexi-time ‘sliding time’ can be arranged between the employee and his supervisor. A flexi time scheme allows employees, subject to certain conditions, to vary their working hours to suit to their individual requirements. Flexi-time is subject to the operational needs of the concerned department. Flexi-time may only be taken in consultation and with the approval of the staff member’s supervisor.

- From 7:00 AM to 3:00 PM excluding lunch break
- From 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM excluding lunch break
- From 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM excluding lunch break

3.6.2 Prayer and rest periods

1. All Muslim employees will be allowed reasonable time off during work periods to fulfill their religious obligations.
2. The time period assigned for prayers and lunch should not exceed one hour a day.
3. The time duration of lunch should not be counted as part of the regular working hours.

3.6.3 Shift Schedule
The standard working hours for employees in the shift schedule is 8 hours a day, the number of days of work and rest will be as per the work cycle for operations. There will be three shifts for employees working under the shift schedule. The work timings and breaks of the shift will be determined by respective line managers and supervisors as per University’s business and operational requirement.

3.6.4 Ramadan Schedule
Working hours for employees during the month of Ramadan will be reduced to 5 hours a day, the exact work timings will be announced by the Human Resources Department. There will be no equivalent decrease in the level of salary paid to the employees and those employees who are required to work for eight hours will be compensated with two hours overtime.
3.6.5 Time keeping & Attendance

1. Administrative Employees (Grade 9 & Below) must be enrolled to the Attendance System.
2. Each employee must be present, at his/her workstation, for every scheduled workday.
3. Employees are expected to adhere to the official work schedule and are required to notify their line manager via phone in the event of absence / lateness from work for any reason such as being sick or having transportation problems.
4. The University may request its employees to sign the attendance register on arrival at work as well as on departure from work.
5. It is the responsibility of each assigned department's timekeeper to submit time and attendance form, timely, and accurately to Alfaisal University's Human Resources Department at the end of working hours of each Wednesday.
6. Department managers are responsible for ensuring the punctuality of their subordinates and to monitor their attendance.
7. The University has the full right, in the case of an employee's repeated attendance violations, to apply disciplinary actions as stipulated in the University’s Code of Conduct.
8. Employees are not to enter/remain in the workplace outside the working hours unless required by professional responsibilities, and authorized to do so by their immediate supervisor.

3.6.6 Absences

There are two categories of absence: planned and unplanned.

1. A planned absence must be approved in advance. Planned absences occur when an employee takes vacation or other scheduled absences. Because these absences must be pre-approved by a supervisor, they are generally considered excused. A planned absence may be paid or unpaid, approved or disapproved. Any employee not reporting to work when a request for annual or any other types of approved leaves have been denied will be considered as unexcused / unauthorized absence and will be subject to disciplinary actions according to HR Policies.

2. An unplanned absence is usually an absence due to illness, injury, or emergency. In the event of a need for an unplanned absence, an employee should contact his/her supervisor immediately. A supervisor will determine if an unplanned absence is excused or unexcused based on proper justification and according to HR Policies. If the employee fails to contact his/her supervisor for unplanned absence within a reasonable amount of time or if the reason for absence is unacceptable to the supervisor, then the absence is considered unexcused /unauthorized and therefore unpaid and subject for salary deduction according to HR Policies.

3.6.7 Rest Days

For Employees on Regular Schedule
Employees under the regular schedule will have two days off per week, Thursday and Friday.

For Employees on Shift Schedule
Employees under the shift schedule will also have two day of rest during the week similar to employees working on regular schedule; however these will be rotated for different employees as per the published shift schedules to ensure that the operations do not come to a standstill. If shift schedule employees do not avail their rest day(s), they are entitled to be compensated for their extra work.

3.6.8 Overtime & Compensatory Days Off

3.6.8.1 Overview:
An authorized payment for additional work done outside of regular working hours or over official holidays and weekends as per the Saudi labors law.

3.6.8.2 Eligibility for overtime:
- All employees who are employed in the following positions are not eligible to receive overtime:
  - Faculty members
  - Managerial position and above

However, The University provides its employees in Management & Senior Professionals Bands who are not eligible for overtime pay and who work on rest days/public holidays compensatory time off for the number of such days worked subject to a maximum of 5 working days per year.

- Employees shall not be assigned to work overtime in the following cases:
  - During leave period
  - During Training
  - If they were late for more than (5) hours per week

3.6.8.3 Responsibility of Supervisor/Manager
- Supervisors/Managers will assign overtime in a fair and reasonable manner, taking into consideration the needs of the unit, and the abilities, availability, and willingness of employees and overtime budget.
- Concerned line Managers and Supervisors are responsible for managing and controlling overtime.
- Supervisors are responsible to determine and to assign work schedules.
- Work outside of approved schedules should not be allowed, unless approval is obtained or an emergency exists.
- An employee who declines overtime assignments with no acceptable legitimate reason (if overtime requested was under 2 hours a day and for an urgent matter), or who works unauthorized overtime, may be subject to disciplinary action.
- Any non-exempt employee who works overtime must be compensated as per his/her basic salary at the rate of overtime worked for all overtime worked. Hour rate will be calculated as basic salary/30 calendar days. The formula is as follows:

\text{Number of overtime hours} \times \frac{150 \times \text{Basic Salary}}{100 \times 240}

3.6.8.4 Overtime Hours

Overtime is time worked, exclusive of meal breaks, in excess of forty (40) assigned and approved hours in a standard work period of five (5) consecutive days.

i. Time Worked

Time worked for overtime purposes consists of any hours worked after work period or during weekends or official holidays.

The maximum allowable overtime is 2 hours a day on working days and 4 hours during weekend and public holidays. Which means that overtime worked hours should not exceed 18 hours/week.

Overtime should not exceed 720 hours/year.

Overtime payment should not exceed 50% of basic salary/week.

3.6.8.5 Overtime Pay

- When a non-exempt employee works authorized overtime, he or she is paid at one and a half (1-1/2) times the employee's regular rate of basic salary.
- The University may compensate employees with additional leave days in lieu of overtime hours.
- If the overtime requested exceeds the overtime budget, it will be compensated as additional leave days in lieu of overtime hours.
- Overtime hours worked is rounded to the nearest quarter of one hour.
- The compensatory time (Additional leave days) must be used within 90 days of the date in which it was earned. If the days were not used within 90 days, they will not be cashed or carried on for the next year, neither will be considered at the final settlement.
- Exempt employees do not receive overtime pay.
3.7 Vacation & Holidays

Overview
The policy outlines vacation and holiday entitlements which are competitive, consistent with operating requirements, and in compliance with the Saudi Arabian Labor Law.

Objective
The policy endeavors to allow employees leave as per the standard rules and procedures

Policy Details
All leave applications will be submitted using the forms as per the specified leave entitlement policies.

3.7.1 Annual Leave
1. The university provides the following annual workdays' vacation to its non-faculty employees:
   - Executive Management Band: 30 Working Days
   - Management & Senior Professionals Band: 30 Working Days
   - Supervisory, Professionals & Skilled Band: 25 Working Days

2. Leave days are accrued on monthly basis throughout the year.
3. The employee must complete and submit a Leave Request to his/her superior at least 15 days before his/her leave commencement date.
4. The number of leave days requested must not exceed the total number of leave days accrued at the commencement of the employee’s leave. The total of accrued leave days will be rounded to the nearest whole number.
5. Employees are prohibited from working (whether paid or unpaid) during the period of their leaves.
6. Employee starting date of work is taken as the base of leave calculation.
7. Employee is entitled to compensation for the accrued days of the leave if he/she leaves the University without using his leave.
8. Annual Leave shall be requested at least 1 week before the leave starts.
9. Employee cannot take any leave before the leave is accepted and finalized

Deferring Annual Leave
1. For compelling business reasons or personal reasons only, an employee may defer all or part of his/her leaves entitlement of the current year to the following year. However, the maximum leave days that can be deferred should not exceed 20 days of non-faculty the employee’s annual leave entitlements.
2. Leave deferrals must be utilized in full before end of the following year.
3. The balance of leave entitlement should not exceed 50 days at any time.
4. Leave deferral requires prior approval from line manager or supervisor and as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.
Week Ends and Public Holidays within Annual Leave Periods

Since leave is granted on the basis of business days, regular and week end days-off shall be not counted as part of the employee’s annual leave. However, public and official holidays such as Eid Al-Fitr, Eid Al-Adha and the National Holiday are not included within the leave and shall be automatically compensated or added to the employee annual leave balance if these days fall within the annual leave.

Late Return from Annual Leave

1. If an employee, for unavoidable reasons, fails to return from his/her leave on time, he/she must notify his/her supervisor immediately of his/her delay, of the reason thereof, and of the expected date of his/her return (in writing).
2. Late return from leave requires prior approval from line manager & supervisor.
3. Upon return from leave, the employee has to report to his/her supervisor.
4. An employee who fails to comply with the provisions of the above and/or to present proper justifications to support his/her claim is liable to disciplinary action and the additional leave days will be first deducted from his/her annual leave balance if it does cover and then the excess leave shall be deducted from his/her monthly payroll.

Early Return from Annual Leave

When the employee returns from leave earlier than the stipulated period, he/she shall fill the Return from Leave Form and the rest of the days will be added to her/his balance.

Recall from Annual Leave

1. Requesting an employee to interrupt his/her leave to resume duty is against University policy. Therefore, calling an employee from his/her annual leave shall be done only on exceptional circumstances for extreme business requirements and requires prior approval as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.
2. The employee shall be reimbursed for the transportation costs and any other additional costs he/she incurs during this recall.

Sickness during Annual Leave

1. An employee who falls sick during annual leave will not be eligible for sick leave unless the sickness requires him/her to be admitted to a hospital. In such case the employee should instantly inform his/her immediate supervisor about such sickness. The employee upon return will have to submit documentary proof of the sickness and days of sickness to be granted a sick leave. The number of authorized days for which he/she had fallen sick will be considered as sick leave.
2. Any claim for sick leave, which is not accompanied by an appropriate medical certificate and submitted within 7 days from the date of resumption of duty shall be treated as part of the annual leave, or leave without pay, as determined by the employee's line manager or supervisor and the Human Resources Director in consultation with the employee’s concerned Department Head.

3.7.2 Public Holidays

3.8 Business, Professional Dev. & Training, Research & Conference Presentation Travel

Overview

University-approved travel is defined as transportation on Alfaisal University business in excess of one’s normal commute. Alfaisal University-approved travel includes roundtrip transportation from point of origin to the intended destination. This policy is based on pre-budgeted funds set for the list of categories of travel listed below. The university is not obliged in any way to confirm contractually to the below listed stipulations. If it is anticipated that the cost of travel activities will exceed the budgeted amount, the activities will require prior approval.

Objective

The Travel Policy is intended to ensure the efficient use of the business, professional development and training, and research and conference presentation travel funds. Approval will be granted if the request is deemed reasonable and necessary, and based upon Human Resources (HR) Policies, conducive to employee performance and academic excellence. Any additional university-related travel will require preauthorization, and reimbursement will be at the sole discretion of the approvers outlined below. It is the ultimate responsibility of the approver to ensure that travel-related expenditures represent a worthy use of university funds.

3.8.1 Planning and Budgeting for Business Travel

1. Each Department Head shall identify the number, nature, destination and cost of business travel at the start of each fiscal year. Estimated costs of business travel for various destinations shall be circulated by the Human Resources Department to assist in budgeting University's wide business travel cost.

2. Business travel plans must be approved by line manager or supervisor and as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

3. Human Resources Department shall make budgetary provision for business travel at the start of each fiscal year based on estimates.

3.8.2 Entitlement for Non-Faculty Members:

1. Business Travel is governed by business needs and is separate from all other defined travel.

2. Professional Development & Training is limited to once a year unless an exemption is made by the VP of Administration and Finance.

3. Invitation Travel is unlimited and the leave required to attend will fall under paid leave. However, employees must disclose fully any financial assistance included in the invitation to avoid double-funding of the travel.

4. All authorized business travel reimbursement will be covered at the rate of 100% and shall include the following: roundtrip transportation costs from origin to destination, training/event/conference fees, and any required membership and registration fees. In addition, a daily per-diem rate dependent upon employee rank shall be applied. Per-diem rates will cover local transportation, accommodation, food, and documentation expenses. These per-diem rates shall be inclusive of days of travel, and shall apply per person, per trip, per year.

5. Business travel for administration and faculty at the instructor, lecturer, and senior lecturer rank the subsequent per-diem rates will apply (Table 1): SR 2000 for North America, South America, Western Europe, Australia and Japan; SR 1500 for the Middle East, Asia, and travel within the Kingdom requiring an overnight stay, or exceeding a five hour drive; and SR 250 for local travel: Travel within a three-hour drive of Riyadh is deemed local. Mileage reimbursement for local travel shall be compensated at a rate of SR 0.50 per kilometer.

| Table 1. Summary of per diem rates by geographic region |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Per Diem (SAR)                  | 2000            | 1800            | 1500            | 250 SAR (additional mileage reimbursed at 0.50 SAR per km) |
| Geographic Region               | North America, South America, Western Europe, Australia and Japan | Eastern Europe, Eastern Asia and South Africa | Middle East, Africa and KSA | Riyadh |

6. For senior management and leadership, a per-diem rate shall be calculated on a case-by-case basis for business travel. This rate will require pre-authorization from the VP of Administration and Finance.

3.8.3 Eligibility

1. Fulltime faculty and staff applying for professional development & training should have at least three months of service prior to travel sponsored by the university and should not be in the last six months of their contract unless approved prior to any contractual adjustments. All business, research and conference presentation, grant and invitation travel are exempted from this restriction.

2. Faculty and staff who will be leaving the university under voluntary separation or are being dismissed from service within six months are not eligible for professional development & training travel support; unless the travel has been preapproved prior to resignation. All business and grant travel are exempted from this restriction.

| Table 2. Summary of Eligibility Requirements for Business, Professional Development & Training, Research and Conference Presentation Travel |

| Grant            | Faculty | In line with grant | No | No | Yes |
| Invitation       | Faculty & Non-Faculty | Approval of Provost/Dean | Partial/None | Partial/None | Yes |
3.8.4 Requirements for Business, Professional Development & Training

1. Quality of the conference(s) and activity/function will be determined by the employee’s immediate supervisor, with supporting justification, and the final approval of attendance to be granted by the employee’s dean or department head.

2. The following warrant the efficient use of university funds: business travel, professional development & training. Business travel will be based on business need and is not to be included in any of the aforementioned categories.

3. Expenditures should be within preapproved departmental budgets.

4. For senior management and leadership, a per-diem rate shall be calculated on a case-by-case basis. This rate will require preauthorization from VP Administration and Finance.

5. No reimbursement will be processed unless the travel has been properly preapproved.

6. For professional development & training, research and conference presentation the employee must apply by uploading all required supporting documents on the HR Portal 20 working days prior to the departure date for travel; and five working days prior for business or university-mandated travel.

7. No duplicate reimbursement is permitted for any employee of the university whose travel is supported by a third party. Expenses covered by a third party must be fully disclosed and adjustments will be made towards the total reimbursement for approved travel.

8. The point of departure and return for all university-approved travel must be determined prior to the scheduled date of departure.

9. For all types of travel, the requirements of the Finance and Human Resources departments must be fulfilled by the approver.

10. The approver of travel requests will be as follows:
   i. Academic: Immediate Supervisor, and/or Dean, Department Head or Provost
   ii. Administrative: Immediate Supervisor, and/or Dean, Department Head or VP Administration and Finance
   iii. Business/University-mandated: Immediate Supervisor and Dean, Department Head or Provost

3.8.5 Externally Funded Conference/Workshop Attendance

External Research Grants and Contracts may also be used to provide funds for conference attendance; per the approved budgets and grantor agreement policies and guidelines.

3.8.6 Non-Funded Participation in Conferences and Workshops

1. Faculty invited to conferences, workshops or institutions with costs covered by the conference or workshop organizers or foreign/external institution may travel on business leave without cost to Alfaisal University.

2. Documentation is needed from the conference/workshop management or foreign/external institution indicating that the faculty member has been invited and that all costs are covered.
3.8.7 Travel Guidelines:

1. Air Tickets:
   Criteria for airline tickets will be as follows:
   i. It is preferred to use the National carrier.
   ii. Most direct route and least expensive fare.
   iii. Transferrable, refundable, arranged and purchased by the university.
   iv. Airline travel classes will be as follows:

3.8.8 Indirect Route or Interrupted Travel

Advance approval is required when an employee takes an indirect route or interrupts travel by a direct route other than for university business. Any resulting additional expenses shall be paid for by the employee. The reimbursement of expenses shall be limited to the actual cost incurred, or the charges that would have been incurred via a direct route whichever is less. Any excessive resulting travel time will not be considered work time, and will be charged to the appropriate type of leave. The employee shall be responsible for accurate reporting of such leave time.

3.8.9 Miscellaneous/Other Travel Expenses

Charges for a change in itinerary and excess baggage will not be reimbursed by the university except when there exists a reasonable explanation for the charges. Charges will be reviewed and accepted or rejected by the approver.

3.8.10 Confirmation of Attendance (Upon Completion of Travel)

Employees receiving reimbursement for business, professional development & training, research and conference presentation are required to submit a copy of the name badge; in addition to all other specified documents for reimbursement.

3.8.11 Additional Considerations

1. Travel expenses are to be reimbursed uniformly throughout the university. This policy applies to all university employees.
2. The university is not obligated to reimburse employees for expenses that do not comply with the principals of this policy.
3. Entertainment expenditures are not reimbursed.
4. When a trip is postponed or cancelled by the employee for any personal reason after the purchase of the ticket, employee can cancel the ticket or change it and give the amount that was paid by the University back to the University with no deduction. If the trip was cancelled or postponed by the University or the inviting centre, the employee should cancel the ticket or postpone the date and send all documentations and invoices to the University to check and if approved, the employee shall not bear any of the changed ticketing expenses.

5. All costs for business communications will be reimbursed including costs to send and receive faxes, phone calls and packages.

6. All visa costs will be reimbursed.

7. The maximum limit of paid travel time to be granted to employees on business assignments will be as follows:
   - Arab Countries:
     - 1/2 day on the day of departure
     - 1/2 day on the day of arrival.
   - Other Countries:
     - 2 days on the day of departure.
     - 2 days on the day of arrival.

3.9 Work Relations

Overview
The policy covers the basic principles that govern the disciplinary and grievance procedures followed by the University and standards of business ethics/conflict of interest situations.

Objective
The objective is to achieve the highest level of ethical work practices and professionalism in business. It also seeks to propagate employee satisfaction by creating an effective system of grievance handling and disciplinary procedures.

Policy Details

3.9.1 Conflict of Interest

1. All employees have the responsibility to avoid both conflicts of interest, and situations which give the appearance of a conflict of interest.
2. Employees are prohibited from having a direct or indirect personal interest in the University’s contracts or projects or with the contractors doing business with the University.
3. Employees are prohibited to purchase, or influence the purchase of, goods or services from an organization in which they have a direct or indirect personal financial interest.
4. Employees are prohibited to accept gifts, cash or other items of any kind, except those associated with usual business practices and courtesies and of a nominal value from persons or organizations involved with the University.
5. Employees are prohibited to utilize the University’s funds for unlawful purposes.
6. No employee should hold a controlling “personal stake” in another firm, which does business or intends to do business with the University; this includes holding a position, having a controlling financial stake or any form of ownership in such a firm.
7. University employees are prohibited from engaging in any trade other than their span of work as employees of the University.
8. Any employee misusing his/her position for the acquisition or acceptance of a bribe of personal benefits will be dismissed at the first offence without notice or benefits and without prejudice to proceedings of Public Prosecution.
9. Any employee not following the policies above will be dismissed at the first offence without notice or benefits.

3.9.2 Business Ethics

1. The University shall maintain the highest ethical standards in its conduct of business. It shall be honest in its dealings with internal as well as external stakeholders. The University shall avoid all situations, which can be termed as illegal or dishonest.
2. The University’s records/audits shall be maintained at the highest level of integrity. Any instance of falsification will be dealt with strictly.
3. University information of confidential nature shall not be disclosed to third parties and any information regarding any other organization with which the University does business shall be kept confidential. This information might have come by the means of normal business dealings. Any such information shall be disclosed only after prior approval from the University delegated authorities.

4. In case of legal dealings confidentiality shall be maintained at all times.

5. All employees of the University are to abide by the rules of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia during the conduct of business dealings. Any violation is considered as breach of the University policy on business ethics.

6. All employees are to show concern for the society and its customs in due course of business.

7. No employee should indulge in any sort of bribery, dishonest means to gain favors for the University. Any such actions could lead to punitive action against employees.

3.9.3 Dress Code

The dress and personal appearance of all employees should reflect a professional image. As a University, we meet people on daily basis in the course of conducting our business. The reputation of the University, as well as staff own reputation, is judged partly by our personal conduct and appearance. Employees are expected to dress in a clean and neat manner, appropriate for their respective job responsibilities and business environment.

As a general rule this means all staff members should wear business suits or local dress (Thobs & Ghotras).

Female Employees are required to wear conservative clothes and wear an Abaya or a Lab-coat over their clothes.

3.9.4 Gross Misconduct

There are certain situations in which the University considers poor employee conduct as so serious as to warrant dismissal.

The following conduct by an employee constitutes legal grounds for dismissal without end of service benefits and on condition that the employee is given the opportunity to show his reasons behind his objection to the dismissal:

1. If, during or by reason of the work, the employee assaults the employer, the manager in charge or any of his/her superiors.

2. If the employee fails to perform his essential obligations arising from the work contract, or to obey legitimate orders, or if, in spite of written warnings, he/she deliberately fails to observe the instructions related to the safety of work and University as may be posted by the University in a prominent place.

3. If it is established that the employee has committed a misconduct or an act infringing on honesty or integrity.

4. If the employee deliberately commits any act or default with the intent to cause material loss to the University, provided that the latter shall report the incident to the appropriate authorities within twenty-four hours from being aware of such occurrence.

5. If the employee resorts to forgery in order to obtain the job.

6. If the employee is hired on probation.

7. If the employee is absent without valid reason for more than twenty days in one year or for more than ten consecutive days, provided that the dismissal be preceded by a written warning from the University to the employee if the latter is absent for ten days in the first case and for five days in the second.
8. If the employee unlawfully takes advantage of his/her position for personal gain.

9. If the employee discloses work-related industrial or commercial secrets

3.9.5 Sexual Harassment

The University is committed to creating and maintaining a community where all persons who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in an atmosphere free of all forms of harassment, exploitation, or intimidation. Every member of the University community should be aware that the University is strongly opposed to sexual harassment, and that such behavior is prohibited both by local laws and by University policies.

An employee is considered engaged in harassment if he or she intentionally:

- harms or intimidates another person by malicious conduct;
- subjects another person to offensive physical contact;
- interferes with or damages the property of another person without permission or a reasonable ground to believe that permission has been granted; or
- Subjects another person to alarm by threatening to inflict physical injury to or to cause damage to the property of that other person.

Additionally, any administrator, supervisor, manager or faculty member who is aware of sexual harassment and condones it, by action or inaction, is subject to disciplinary action.

The University will respond promptly and effectively to reports of sexual harassment, and will take appropriate and severe actions on employees that violate this policy up to and including termination of service. Supervisory personnel who are contacted by an individual seeking to file a complaint about sexual harassment in their unit or area of responsibility shall assist the complainant in contacting the appropriate complaint-receiving officials identified below.

1. Informal Procedures

1. The complainant may attempt to resolve the matter directly with the alleged offender and report back to the complaint-receiving official.

2. The complaint-receiving official may notify the alleged offender of the complaint, paying appropriate attention to the need to maintain confidentiality. The complaint-receiving official may take whatever steps short of formal sanctions that he or she deems appropriate to affect an informal resolution acceptable to both parties.

3. Where the alleged offender is a student, the complainant and accused may choose to participate in mediation.

4. If a complaint is resolved informally, no record of the complaint will be entered in the alleged offender’s personnel file or student records. However, the complaint-receiving official will, in the form of a confidential file memorandum, record the fact of the complaint and the resolution achieved.

2. Formal Procedures

In formal resolution procedures, the written and signed complaint will be directed to the following officials:
1. If the formal complaint is against a faculty member, other instructional personnel, or staff employed in a college, it should be directed to the dean of the college.

2. If the formal complaint is against a staff member in a unit other than a college, it should be directed to the Human Resources department.

3. If the formal complaint is against a student, not acting in an instructional or other employment capacity, it should be directed to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

4. If the formal complaint is against a person outside the University (non-employee, non-student), it should be directed to the dean of the college if the behavior is occurring in a college or school, to the Human Resource department if the behavior is occurring in the work environment outside an academic unit, or to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs if the complainant is a student.

5. If conflicts or other problems exist with either the dean, the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs or the Human Resource department handling the formal complaint, the formal complaint may be filed with the Director of Human Resources, or if conflicts exist with Director of HR, individuals may consult with the Provost.

3.9.6 Non-discrimination Policy

Alfaisal University is a community of people with respect for diversity. The University emphasizes the dignity and equality common to all persons and adheres to a strict nondiscrimination policy regarding the treatment of individual faculty, staff, and students. In accord with governmental law, the University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ancestry, age, disability, or veteran status in employment or in any program or activity offered or sponsored by the University. In addition, the University does not discriminate on any basis not related to the applicable educational requirements for students or the applicable job requirements for employees. The University maintains a grievance procedure incorporating due process available to any person who believes he or she has been discriminated against.

3.9.7 Receipt of Gifts Policy

Gifts, business entertainment or other benefits are often accepted as a legitimate and recognized part of commercial life. Problems, however, arise when they begin to compromise, or even appear to compromise, commercial relationships. For this reason, employees are not permitted, as a general rule, to offer or accept gifts or other benefits from students, clients, suppliers, business partners and associates. In case a staff member accepts any gifts, he must declare the gift details, including its monetary value, in writing to his immediate supervisor under advice to the Director of Human Resources.

3.9.8 Non-Smoking Policy

The University recognizes that cigarettes and tobacco smoke is a hazard to the health of the University community. Because of the harmful consequences of cigarettes and tobacco use, both active and passive, the University has adopted the following policies:

- The University designates all buildings as smoke-free. Therefore, smoking is prohibited in University buildings including offices and hallways. This policy applies to all University buildings on and off campus.
- Smoking at outdoor events (specifically including those in the stadium) is restricted to designated areas.
- Smoking is prohibited in vehicles leased or owned by the University.
• Visitors to Alfaisal University are included under this policy as temporary members of the University community.

3.9.9 Confidentiality

1. All employees must abide by strict confidentiality rules in respect of the University business contacts and their affairs.
2. Employees should not use, divulge or communicate any such information to third parties, both during and after the term of employment.
3. Upon termination, all records and documents at the employee’s procession must be returned by the employee to the University.
4. Any employee providing information and forms related to the University or associated business contacts without permission will face the following disciplinary action:
   - At first offence – written warning
   - At second offence – termination with benefits
5. Any employee divulging any secret of the University or associated business contacts will face the following disciplinary action:
   - At first offence – dismissal without notice and benefits

3.9.10 Undertaking of Other Work

1. University employees are not allowed to undertake any other full or part-time work without the approval of management and HR and as per the authority matrix.
2. Details of any honorary or semi-honorary duties undertaken by an employee must be notified to management, however as these duties are unlikely to interfere with the University duties they do not require the approval of management.
3. Any employee undertaking any other unauthorized full or part-time work will face the following disciplinary action:
   - At first offence – written warning
   - At second offence – termination with benefits

3.9.11 University Property

1. Each employee shall be held directly responsible for the safeguard of the University’s funds and properties under his/her custody.
2. Negligence or deliberate misuse of University property shall be regarded by the University as a highly serious offense, and penalized accordingly.
3. The use of University tools and equipment – including telephones, computers and email applications shall be restricted for official business use only.
3.9.12 Rights to Ownership-Inventions/Patents

1. Inventions made in due course of work are treated to be as property of the University. The employee will be rewarded for such an act but the usage/patent of the invention will belong to the University.

2. Special awards may be given for any extraordinary achievements made by the employees.

3.9.13 Grievance Procedure

1. Grievance Procedure deals with the effective handling of employee complaints against operational conditions or fellow employees.

2. Grievance Procedure promotes an atmosphere of employee satisfaction wherein employees can work at optimal levels.

3. The University will take severe disciplinary action against an employee if the grievance contains false accusations or is intentionally defamatory to the University, Its superiors or employees.

First Level Hearing

1. An employee must initiate his/her own complaint (a written complaint needs to be submitted to the immediate supervisor).

2. The employee shall discuss his/her grievance with his immediate supervisor. The supervisor will conduct an investigation and then reply to the employee regarding the complaint within three (3) working days (the reply may be verbal or written, as appropriate).

Second Level Hearing

1. In the event the matter is not satisfactorily addressed at the supervisor's level, then the employee may appeal to the Department Head who shall attempt to resolve the complaint within five (5) working days.

2. If the matter is not satisfactorily resolved at the Department level, then, the employee should seek the assistance of the Human Resources Operation Manager.

3. If the Human Resources Operation Manager cannot satisfactorily resolve the issue between the Complainant and the concerned party or department, then, the Human Resources Employee Operation Manager shall advise the Complainant to submit the complaint in writing to the Director of Human Resources Department.

Third Level Hearing

1. On submission of a written complaint by the employee, Director of Human Resources shall notify the concerned party / Department Head that there is an employee complaint pending.

2. Director of Human Resources will schedule a meeting for all the parties to resolve the matter. At that meeting, the Director of Human Resources functions as a neutral mediator seeking to arrive at a solution acceptable to all parties.

3. The Complainant(s) and Supervisor may bring in other fellow employee from within the University as witnesses at this point in the process.

4. The Complainer’s concerned department Head shall have three (3) working days after the parties meet to respond in writing to the complaint. In case the nature of the grievance is such that it can have implications for other employees as well, the complaint may be escalated to the higher levels.
3.9.14 Employee’s Rights as per Law

1. If the grievance or complaint is not finally settled within the University, or the employee is not satisfied with the final written decision, the employee may submit his/her grievance with the relevant jurisdiction authority according to the Saudi Arabian Labor Law.

2. In such case, it is the responsibility of the Human Resources Director or his/her representative to follow up and solve such a grievance or complaint with the government agency.

3.9.15 Fair Treatment to all Employees

1. No employee shall suffer from any unfair treatment because of the fact that he/she has presented a grievance or complaint under the provisions of this policy.

2. An employee must be allowed time off from regular duties as may be for grievance hearings without any deduction in pay.

3.9.16 Disciplinary Process

Classification of Penalties

Penalties that may be imposed on an employee shall be classified into three types:

Type I: Warnings

Verbal Warning: If an employee commits for the first time some of the offences listed in the Schedule of Infringements & Related Penalties, he/she may be issued a verbal warning by the Department Head describing the offence and advising and explaining how he/she could correct his/her conduct to avoid the offence depending on the seriousness of the offence and the other circumstances that are left to his discretion. Verbal warning could be in writing to have it included in the employees file as "Verbal Warning"

First Warning: If an employee commits for the first time one or more of the offences listed in the Schedule of Infringements & Related Penalties, he/she may be issued a written warning by the Department Head describing the offence and explaining how he/she could correct his/her conduct. A copy should be sent to HR for filing.

Second Warning: If an employee commits for a second time one or more of the offences listed in the Schedule of Infringements & Related Penalties, he/she may be issued a second written warning by the Department Head describing the offence, emphasizing the seriousness of repeated violations of University rules, and explaining how he/she could correct his/her conduct. A copy should be sent to HR for filing.

Dismissal Warning: If an employee commits for a third time one or more of the offences; he/she may be issued a dismissal written warning by the Human Resources Director describing his/her latest offence, outlining his/her previous offences, explaining how such conduct could be corrected, re-emphasizing the seriousness of repeated violations of University rules, and warning him/her that the committing of any further offence shall result in the termination of his/her service.

Type II: Termination of Service

Termination of Service after Prior Warning:

If an employee commits for the fourth time one or more of the offences listed in the Schedule of Infringements & Related Penalties, he/she shall be subject to termination of his/her service with payment of the notice period and end of service award.

Termination of Service without Warning:

If an employee commits one of the offences listed in the Schedule of Infringements & Related Penalties in a flagrant manner which seriously prejudices the interests of the University or its employees, - determined by the concerned department’s Director and the Director of HR with possible legal consultation from an in house or out house legal advisor - he/she shall be subject to immediate termination of service with payment of the notice period and end of service award.

Termination of Service without Payment of End of Service Award:

If an employee commits an offence listed in Article no. 80 in Labors Law, his/her service may be terminated without payment of notice period and end of service award, provided the workman is given a chance to state his/her reasons for objecting to the termination.

3.9.17 Employee’s Suspension

If an employee is detained or taken into custody by the competent authorities in cases related to work or occasioned by it, the employer shall continue to pay the worker 50% of the wage until the case is decided, provided that the period of detention or custody shall not exceed one hundred eighty (180) days. If said period exceeds that, the University shall not be required to pay any portion of the wage for the excess period. If the employee is acquitted or the investigation is closed for lack of evidence or invalidity thereof, the University shall return to the employee the amount previously deducted from his/her wage. However, if he is convicted, none of the payments made shall be recovered unless the judgment provides otherwise.

3.10 End of Service

Overview
This policy applies to voluntary and involuntary employee separation.

Objective
The policy endeavors to ensure that end of service is handled in a consistent manner based on the type of termination.

Policy Details

3.10.1 Types and conditions for termination

Employees could be terminating under any one of the following situations:

- Employee resignation: Employee can choose to willfully resign from the services of the University after he/she has discussed the reasons for his/her resignation with his/her Immediate Superior.

- During Probation: if the University finds the employee unfit during the probationary period, it may terminate the services of the employee without notice or justification.

- Due to medical unfitness: Employees who are proven to be medically unfit by an approved medical authority are liable to be terminated from the services of the University.

- Due to offences: Termination due to offences as listed in Types I, II and III of the Schedule of Infringements & Related Penalties listed in Chapter 11, according to the type of the infringements and/or Article 80 of Labors Law.

- Non-renewal of employment contract: Employees with specified term contracts shall be notified one as per the notice period stipulated in their employment contracts of termination of their services from the University. In the non-specific contracts, the employee's services may be terminated at any time during the contract period provided the employee is given termination notice as per the employee's contract.

- Due to retirement: On attaining the retirement age of 60 years (Hijra) for Saudi male employees and the age of 55 years (Hijra) for Saudi female employees.

- Breach of employment contract: An employee is liable to be terminated when he/she breaches a clause of the employment contract.

- Government Directives: an employee can be terminated in accordance with Government directives; end of service will be paid as per the said directive or as per the Saudi Arabian Labor Law.

3.10.2 Notice period

With exception to termination under Type III offences listed in the schedule of Chapter 11 above, both University and employee are required to submit a written notice of two months prior to the effective date of separation.
3.10.3 Payment in lieu of Notice Period

If either party fails to submit such a notice in due time, the University or employee as the case may be will have to compensate the other party for the requisite notice period using the employee’s last salary as the basis for calculation. The University has the right not to approve the payment in lieu of notice period due to work issues if the employee wishes to leave.

3.10.4 End of Service Award

For details refer to chapter on “Remuneration, Allowances and Benefits”.

3.10.5 Termination

1. The Function/Department Head and the Human Resources Director will be responsible for managing the termination process.
2. Upon preparing the termination letter, the Human Resources Director should consult with the Legal Counselor of the University to ensure compliance with the Saudi Arabian Labor Law requirements.
3. In case of resignation, the Immediate Superior in consultation with the Departmental Head will make a decision on acceptance or rejection of the request as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.
4. If the resignation is accepted, the Departmental Head will duly authorize the same giving the date on which the employee could be relieved from the services.
5. His/her Immediate Superior will communicate acceptance or rejection of the request for resignation to the concerned employee in writing and send a copy to direct line manager.
6. If approved, direct line manager shall send the resignation to HR Department for final approval and process.

3.10.6 Exit interview

1. The objective of the exit interview is to consolidate the employee feedback on circumstances leading to resignation, his/her feedback on policies and systems of the organization and sense of fair treatment.
2. An employee whose services are terminated due to resignation, retirement and non-renewal of employment contract will have an exit interview with the Department Head and the Human Resources personnel.
3. Feedback from exit interviews should be analyzed by the Human Resources personnel and actions should be determined to prevent noted deficiencies in the future.

3.10.7 Clearance

1. The Human Resources personnel will issue the employee whose services are being terminated with a final clearance form on HRSS.
2. Clearance form (e-form through HRSS “Separation Checklist & Clearance Management”) should be finalized to qualify for end of service entitlements.
3.10.8 Service Certificates

1. Service certificate confirming their duration of employment with the University and the last position held is granted to employees leaving the University and after all dues are settled and clearance certificate is signed.
2. The University reserves the right to inform third parties, including clients or subcontractors, of the departure of an employee. This may be done directly or through advertisements in local publications.

3.10.9 Final Exit Visa

1. A final exit visa shall be prepared for every expatriate employee at the end of his/her service, unless his/her employment will be transferred to another employer.
2. If the employee wishes to transfer to another employer and the University agreed, employee loses the right for the annual flight ticket(s) for that year.
3. The expatriate employee departing on final exit shall be escorted to the airport where he shall be given his/her passport and air ticket, and the final departure certificate shall be stamped by the concerned authorities.

3.10.10 Transfer of Sponsorship

1. In the event that an employee wishes to accept a job offer from another organization, the University may approve the transfer the employee’s sponsorship, or issue the employee with a Non Objection Certificate.
2. Authorization of sponsorship transfer should be approved as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

3.10.11 Farewell Party

For employees who separate on conditions other than scheduled offence, their respective Departments may organize a farewell party and a memento/gift will be given to the concerned employee paid for by the concerned department’s budget and approved as per the Delegation of Authority Matrix.

3.12 Payroll

Overview
The University is committed to providing employees with accurate and on time payroll that encourages a relaxing and comfortable environment conducive to individual productivity.

Objective
The following policies have been developed to ensure that:

- The University discharges its payment obligation towards employees in an efficient and accurate manner.
- The University can demonstrate that it is complying with all legal or contractual requirements relating to payment and to working time.

Policy Details

3.12.1 Payroll

1. Employee payroll and related benefits are calculated from the day of joining the University.
2. Calculation of payroll and related benefits are based on Gregorian calendar.
3. For newly hired employees during a partial month, the salary should be paid pro-rata based on the actual number of days worked to the number of working days of that month.
4. Payroll and related compensation and benefits will be paid at the end of each Gregorian month. If the end of the Gregorian month falls on weekends or public holidays, the payroll will then be disbursed one day earlier.
5. Payroll and related compensation and benefits will be paid in Saudi Arabian Riyal.

The University will ensure that appropriate systems are in place to ensure that payment liabilities to employees are discharged properly, and for minimizing the potential for employees to be overpaid or paid incorrectly.

3.12.2 Payroll Preparation

1. Human Resources Department is responsible for maintaining the employees’ payroll information as well as preparing the monthly payroll.
2. Payroll calculation should consider all the earnings, benefits and deductions components affecting the total payment to employees.
3. Allowances and other compensation are reflected in the payroll on the same month they are due to the employees.
4. Payroll preparation should commence at the beginning of the month until the cutoff date which fixed at the 16th of each month, this will provide:
   - Early payroll processing
   - Early transfer of funds to employees accounts
   - Early reconciliation and closing of the books
   - More time to calculate, validate, and process payroll
5. Employees’ payroll data are strictly confidential information and should not be shown or divulged to unauthorized persons. These should be locked in safe cabinets after office hours.

3.12.3 Payroll Deductions

1. Transactions involving deductions from employees’ salary, such as GOSI contributions, and salary advances, etc. should be processed promptly for them to be reflected in the monthly payroll.

2. Nationals of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia whose sole employer is Alfaisal University normally receive a monthly deduction from their payroll of nine percent (9%) of the sum of their base salary and housing to GOSI. Alfaisal University contributes eleven percent (11%) as an employer contribution.

3. Nationals of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia whose sole employer is Alfaisal University normally receive a monthly deduction from their payroll of one percent (1%) of the sum of their base salary and housing to SANED (GOSI). Alfaisal University contributes one percent (1%) as an employer contribution.

4. Alfaisal University contributes (2%) of the sum of the base salary and housing as an employer contribution for sponsored employees of any nationality. The sponsored employee is exempt from providing a contribution.

5. If an employee commits one of the offences listed in this document, he /she is liable to the appropriate penalty. The deduction can be in terms of hours or days deductible from his/her basic salary.

6. If government authorities, for a personal reason not pertaining to his/her work, detain an employee, the University will pay half of his/her fixed base salary from the date of detention for three months.

7. If the detention of the employee continues after three months, the University will suspend his/her employment.

8. In all cases, deduction including repayment of loans, advances, fines, etc. shall not exceed 50% of the employee’s total monthly salary.

9. If the employee is proven innocent, the University has the option to reinstate his/her employment in from the detention date accordance to the Delegation of Authority Matrix, and pay him/her the balance of any compensation due for the 1st three months of detention period only.

10. If the employee is proven guilty, the University will terminate his/her employee in accordance with the provisions of the Saudi Arabian Labor Law and Delegation of Authority Matrix and pay all his/her dues for the period of service. Per executive level or expatriate contracts, the University is authorized to deduct a voluntary contribution, on a monthly basis, toward a retirement fund of the employee’s choice. The University will contribute a greater percent toward the retirement benefit of the employee on a monthly basis.

11. If the employee has any questions or witnesses any errors regarding payroll, he/she should approach the Payroll Supervisor for clarification about the issue.

4.2 Communication Policy

Overview
This policy covers the processes and guidelines that direct the HR communication policies and activities.

Objective
The objective of the policy is to create an effective and healthy HR communication culture at Alfaisal University. Effective communication means the provision and exchange of information and instructions, which enables the University to function efficiently and employees to be properly informed of developments. Effective communication involves the management of relationships and the need for staff involvement. Communication is as much about attitude and behavior as it is about message. Two-way communication is expected throughout the University, and employees are encouraged to take advantage of the Communication Policy.

Policy Details
Alfaisal University strongly believes that direct and open communication is fundamental to create and sustain the healthy and open communication culture; where employees and managers can comfortably and candidly discuss work issues or employment concerns honestly, and with mutual respect and trust.

1. The Management of the University is very keen to institutionalize a healthy & friendly environment, where all employees feel confident, respected, motivated, committed and productive.
2. All Managers and supervisors are obliged to listen and respond to employee concerns in a timely manner.
3. Alfaisal University’s communication Policy features several tools; the most important is the Open Door Policy.
4. Alfaisal University believes that ongoing communication usually prevents problems from arising in the first place.
5. Alfaisal University holds meetings with its employees at least once every one year although more frequently whenever possible, even in a more informal setting.
6. Another important tool will be the developing Suggestion Program. Ideas that can improve business, operations or safety are welcomed and, in some cases, may be rewarded. Two-way communication is expected throughout the University, and employees are encouraged to take advantage of the Communication Policy.
7. To support Alfaisal University as a thriving and successful institution we must communicate effectively with each other, with our staff and with our customers. Staff must have the information they need to achieve success in their positions.
8. As part of Human Resource’s commitment to continuous improvement and development of its services, the Human Resources will be seeking regular feedback from staff on how the Human Resource Department and the institution can improve and enhance effective communications. Employees are encouraged to provide their comments and suggestions on all HR & Administration Support Services related matters by filling out and sending the (Feedback Form).
9. Every member of staff has a role and a responsibility to support effective communication.

4.2.1 Suggestion scheme
Employees are encouraged to submit any suggestions or ideas and possible improvements within the University that may be made. Suggestions may also at any point of time can be e-mailed to the Human Resources Director or Heads of Departments.

Suggestions could focus on, but are not limited to, the following areas:

- Improvement of HRD services.
- Improvement of communication means between HRD and Alfaisal University staff.
- Human Resources & Administration Support Services policies and procedures amendment, addition or deletion.
- Alfaisal University’s staff benefits.
- Training and development programs.

Submitted suggestions will be reviewed by the Human Resources team, and in case the suggestions are not within the scope of HR responsibility, HR will forward them to the appropriate person for consideration.

Suggestions will be implemented where possible/appropriate and communicated to all relevant employees.

4.2.1.1 Standards for Communications

All communications at Alfaisal University should be:

- Open, honest, professional and transparent
  The reasons for decisions are available. Decision makers are accessible and ready to engage in dialogue. When information cannot be communicated the reasons for non-disclosure are articulated and questions are expected and answered.

- Factually accurate and timely
  Information arrives at a time when it is needed, is relevant and able to be interpreted in the correct context.

- Clear
  Messages are communicated in plain English or Arabic when needed. They are easy to understand and are not open to misinterpretation.

- Two way
  Systems exist to support communication up and down the institution as well as across the sites and various teams.

- Efficient
  The communication and the way it is delivered is “fit for purpose”, cost effective and appropriate to the recipient.

4.2.1.2 Electronic Communication

The electronic communication system at Alfaisal University is to be used primarily for purposes consistent with carrying out the College’s educational mission. Examples of this system include, but are not limited to, the central computing facilities, the campus-wide network, local-area networks, attached computers and printers, stored programs and data, electronic mail, newsgroups, access to the Internet, the University telephone facilities.
including voice mail, departmental networks, campus CCTV, and the public computing facilities and related services, including Library computers.

This policy applies to all users of this system, including but not limited to faculty and visiting faculty, staff, managers, students, guests, and external organizations and individuals accessing external services, such as the Internet and Library systems, via Alfaisal University electronic communication system.

By using this system, users agree to the guidelines contained herein. Electronic mail and internet may be used for personal communication, but this may not take priority over intended business and academic uses. Priority for using this system will always be given to members of the University community. Because the University cannot guarantee the privacy of messages or documents stored on the system or transmitted through the system or through the internet, use of the system for sending confidential or private personal information is discouraged. Users should be aware that electronic mail communications and voice mail communications can be a potential source of evidence in the process of attorney discovery in discrimination lawsuits or other litigation.

Users of the University’s system should not disclose their passwords to others. Documents or information stored in the system should not be accessed by anyone other than the author or recipient, or by the University, as stated below.

General policy requirements applicable to the use of the system are as follows:

1. Offensive, harassing, defamatory, or otherwise inappropriate communication via the system is prohibited.
2. Use of the system is subject to all legal and University prohibitions against discrimination and harassment based on age, color, disability, gender, gender, national or ethnic origin, race, religion, veteran status, or any other basis protected by applicable Saudi laws.
3. Obscene, objectionable or other offensive material, including material that may be interpreted as harassment by others, may not be viewed, downloaded, printed or transmitted via the system.
4. System users are liable for any action or negligence that directly or indirectly results in adverse effects upon the system or its Users. The execution of computer programs intended to gain unauthorized access to, or make unauthorized use of, the system is prohibited. Users must abide by the terms of all software licensing agreements and copyright laws. Also, users are prohibited from downloading software onto any Library or Office computers or Labs unless given prior approval by the IT Director.
5. Users of the system are obligated to respect the rights of others, the intellectual rights and the intellectual property rights of others when using these Resources. Duplicating and/or distributing information, recordings, or images in violation of applicable copyright laws is not permitted.
6. Unless granted proper authority, users are forbidden to access, transmit or release any information or data of a confidential nature, secured through their position with the University, to a person not authorized to receive such information.
7. University policy prohibits acts that are wasteful of system Resources. Examples include, but are not limited to, sending or forwarding chain letters; sending mass electronic mailings not directly pertinent to University business; creating unnecessary multiple jobs or processes; excessive uploading or downloading of large files, or, creating unnecessary output or printed material.
8. The University system may not be used for personal financial gain, inappropriate or illegal activity of any kind. Users may not download to, install upon, create links to, or otherwise place on the system any data or program which consists of any advertisements for commercial enterprises, without prior approval.
9. The campus electronic mail system exists primarily to facilitate business communications between individuals and specific groups. To the extent that there is excessive use of "Everyone Group" messages (or similar mass mailings) to numbers of individuals who, given a choice, would choose not to receive them, the effectiveness of the system is compromised. Such messages must be restricted to University emergencies and urgent operational messages, notification of University meetings and events, and notification of University-sponsored events or other events off-campus, which relate to the University's educational goals. Messages such as notice of lost and found articles, promotion of political causes, and listing of personal sale items should not be sent via the University e-mail system. Alfaisal Portal can be used for listing of personal items sale. Lost and Found items can be directed to Security personnel.

10. Employees should ensure that their use of the internet does not adversely affect the ability of other faculty and staff in Alfaisal University to use this resource. Use of high-bandwidth applications such as streaming radio, television, and movies on-demand should be avoided or restricted to the evening and night hours.

11. Information stored on university computer systems is confidential and shall not be shared with individuals outside the university without the express written consent of the executive management.

12. The University is the owner and administrator of this system. The University may exercise the right to access information stored on the system for business purposes such as retrieving University business-related information, troubleshooting problems, responding to complaints of misuse, and in order to comply with legal and regulatory interests. Where practical, efforts will be made to obtain express consent from the individual employee or student whose information is to be accessed. It is for these and other reasons that the University cannot guarantee the privacy of messages or documents stored on, or transmitted through the system.

13. Violations could result in penalties imposed upon the user of the system. These penalties could include disabling of the User's account(s), student suspension, student expulsion, employee suspension or termination, termination of access to the system, or liability for expenses incurred by wasteful usage.

14. The University maintains the right to monitor network use and discipline users, including faculty, staff members, managers and students, in accordance with Human Resources & IT Services electronic communication policy guidelines.

15. All Alfaisal University faculty and staff receive an email account, which is created in the following manner:
   - Faculty/Staff: New accounts are created upon notification from Human Resources Department that you have accepted a position at Alfaisal University.
   - All regular full-time, temporary full-time, regular part-time and some temporary part-time employees receive exchange email accounts.
   - Account usernames are created by using the first digit of the person’s first name, and your last name. Your middle initial may be used to create a unique ID. Employee’s username remains the same and is used for login purposes. Faculty and staff email accounts all end with the "@Alfaisal.edu" domain suffix.

General Guidelines for Email Use

- Users should refrain from using Alfaisal email ID for personal emails.
- Passwords (sensitive systems/applications) should not be sent through emails.
- Users should not subscribe or participate in any email list using their Alfaisal email ID that provides access to unsuitable content.
• Alfaisal reserves the right to track, access, block, drop or redirect mails which could damage the harmony and integrity of Alfaisal.

Acceptable Use of Emails Guidelines
• If a user receives an email containing offensive, obscene, or improper content, he should immediately inform the ITS (IT Services).
• Users should immediately inform any identity theft or spoofing to the ITS.

Email Broadcasting
Email Broadcasting is meant to reach specific audience in order to convey important, relevant information. Alfaisal email broadcasting system is for the delivery of important, emergency or time-sensitive information. Messages which must be communicated quickly should use multiple methods of conveyance.

General Email Broadcasting Statements
• The message must be from a valid alfaisal.edu email account
• ITS will create and maintain secure/unsecure groups for targeted university audiences.
• Designated personnel are only authorized to send broadcast messages to specific secure group(s).
• All broadcasting messages should have a short and clear descriptive subject for the message.
• The use of attachments should be minimal for all bulk broadcasting messages.
• It is the responsibility of the department to determine the appropriateness of the messages, proofreading, and following the guidelines for sending broadcast messages.
• The message must concern Alfaisal, and it must be sponsored by a department.
• The broadcast subject should be sent by only one person and not be redirected from another.
• The email subject should reflect the Topic/Agenda/Event that is scheduled to occur.
• A signature is required from department personnel that contain a phone number.
• All html links if provided must be functional and from a valid source
• Broadcast messages must be sent at least one business day prior to the event or program being publicized.
• Messages concerning personal events, business or promotional in nature should not be broadcasted.
• This provision explicitly prohibits the posting of unsolicited electronic mail to lists of individuals, and the inclusion on electronic mail lists of individuals who have not requested membership on the lists.
• Student's electronic mailing list for a class in which they are registered would be used for the purpose of official communications between authorized University personnel and an identified group of students.

Email Broadcasting Guidelines
• Check the email twice before sending.
• Know your intended group or audience.
• User should consult ITS or refer the Policy Based Distribution Groups Document for the Distribution Groups available in the Exchange Server.
• Broadcast email messages are not recommended as the only means of communication for circulating emergency or particularly time-sensitive information.

• Keep it simple. Brief, plain text messages are advised not to use graphics, embedded images or attachments instead can use links to direct recipients to a portal / website where they can obtain more information

• Use resources wisely. Email is a university resource which should be used sensibly.

Email Safety and Spam Control

Email protection is “enabled” on the Exchange Server to provide defense against malicious infections such as Spam, virus, Trojans, worms, spoofing and other malware. Users may not purposely send or forward emails containing viruses or other malicious infections.

The system scans incoming email for spam and viruses. Symantec Firewall may “Quarantine” any attachments that may be harmful. The system alerts you when a potentially harmful attachment has been received, and will allow you the option to deliver the message if it is legitimate. During extreme virus outbreaks, Campus Technologies reserves the right to block certain attachment types such as "exe" files.

General Email Safety and Spam Control Statements

• If the user receives any infected email, immediately notify ITS to take proper action.

• Spam Filtering is enabled on the Exchange Server based on a spam score as determined by the ITS department.

• Spam mail(s) will be either quarantined or redirected to the Junk folder of the recipient.

• Emails that are identified by the scanner as infected will be automatically quarantined.

• Quarantined emails will be kept for 7 days; after which they will be automatically deleted.

• The user is responsible for checking the Junk folder regularly to ensure that spam emails have been categorized correctly.

• If a genuine email is categorized as Junk, the user should set it to "non-spam" as specified within the email in order to receive it in inbox i.e.to the safe list.

Email Safety and Spam Control Guidelines

• If the user receives a message from an anonymous source, or strange subject line, he should inform ITS and delete that email immediately.

• The user should not reply to emails from unknown senders.

• Users should avoid using their Alfaisal email address in chat rooms, newsgroups, and mailing lists. The chances of receiving spam emails increase when an email is publicly posted.

• Users should consider using filtering on incoming mail in their email client (Microsoft Outlook).

• Emails identified as spam will be automatically received into the junk folder. Users are advised to regularly check the junk folder to identify any emails that were mistakenly categorized as junk by the Exchange.

Mailbox maintenance email archiving and storage

• Alfaisal ITS offers email accounts in Outlook, and Webmail access. Users are responsible for setting the mailboxes on their personal smart devices.
• ITS provides the default configuration in Microsoft Outlook. Users are responsible for setting personalized mail features such as signatures, out of office replies that are in line with Alfaisal standards.
• User’s mail boxes are configured with a size quota set as follows: Executives 6 GB, Faculty & Staff 4 GB.
• Maximum size of email attachments may not exceed 20MB. Any email exceeding this size will be rejected and bounced back to the sender.
• Users are responsible for keeping their email account's size under the assigned quota threshold by deleting unnecessary emails and/or archiving old emails by storing them locally. ITS will provide required assistance.
• Whenever mailbox reaches 90% of its allocated size, the user will be automatically warned to clear up space from his email account. When the account reaches 100% the user will automatically receive an email notification and will not be able to receive new mails. In order to receive/send new emails again, the user should clear up space in his account by deleting unwanted emails, archiving old emails, deleting emails with big attachments, etc. For assistance on how to clear and archive emails, users can contact the ITS.
• Spam emails will be received in the junk folder which also adds up to the mailbox quota.
• Email accounts are backed up regularly on a daily, weekly and monthly basis.

Mailbox guidelines
In order to have a safe and secure network environment, all users at Alfaisal must adopt the following precautions:
• Webmail is enabled to provide access to email through https://mail.alfaisal.edu for Employees. Users can access their webmail through any web browser.
• Whenever users access their webmail from a public PC, they should make sure to log off (Sign off) their Alfaisal Outlook Web Access email account before ending their session.
• Should a user require delegating access rights to view or send an email on his/her behalf, these rights should be granted very cautiously and to very few. The user however, will be held responsible for emails generated and sent from his account.
• ITS recommends you to keep your server Mailbox Low and within the allotted quota for better performance and faster access to your emails.
• ITS reserve the rights to increase / decrease the Mailbox Quota of any individual
• Forward suspected hoax messages to itsupport@alfaisal.edu

Email Account Policy for Employees Leaving Alfaisal
• Alfaisal email account will be deactivated after ITS signing off the clearance form.

4.2.1.3 Internet Use
The Internet is a global entity with no control of users or content. Therefore, available Resources may contain material of a controversial nature. Not all sources on the Internet provide accurate, complete or current information. Users need to be good information consumers, questioning the validity of the information.
1. Internet services shall not be used in a manner that would violate any law or infringe any copyright, trademark, trade secret, right of publicity, privacy right or any other right of any person or entity.

2. Internet services may not be used for the purpose of transmitting or storing of material that is obscene, libelous or defamatory.

3. Attempts to obtain unauthorized access to or alteration of either local or remote computer systems or networks are strictly prohibited.

4. Faculty, staff may not create connections or use devices on the campus network that compromise network security or media access controls. These include, but are not limited to, routers (both hardware and software), NAT (network address translation) or IP masquerading, wireless access points or client devices, manual configuration of TCP/IP settings, IP tunnels, or any methods allowing external connections to be made to the internal network.

5. The internet service is available throughout the University for all employees.

4.2.1.4 Backup Management

A backup policy in-place, to protect the business critical applications/data at Alfaisal University to ensure that it is not lost and could be recovered in the event of an equipment failure, intentional destruction of data or disaster.

The policy limited to the server(s) and critical application(s) however, not applicable for the data on the user's computer.

4.2.2 Phones

Each office is equipped with a desk telephone for the employee which can be used as per the following guidelines:

- Phones to be used for business management matters, employees are discouraged from using the phone system for personal purposes.
- External local calls to landline and mobile should be kept to minimum.
- Courtesy phones such as common areas can be used to place, with permission, short campus calls / Emergency calls.

A list of Alfaisal University phone numbers and e-mail addresses of personnel is available at https://portal.alfaisal.edu under the section of Telephone Directory.

4.2.3 Security & Information System Privacy

Computers are wonderful tools that allow us to work efficiently and effectively; however, the benefits they bring also create the potential for serious risks to the privacy and security of our information.

- Adequate security shall include the following:
  A. Protection of the privacy of information.
  B. Protection of systems against unauthorized access.
  C. Protection of information against unauthorized modification.
  D. Protection against dissemination of data in any form and,
  E. Protection of systems against denial of service.
University computer and network resources may be accessed or used only by authorized individuals.

The university reserves the right at its sole discretion for the following;

A. To restrict or disable any account or use of computer and network resources, and to inspect, copy, remove or alter any data, file, or system resources which may undermine authorized use in order to protect the security and integrity of computer and network resources.

B. The university reserves the right to suspend network access or computer account, as defined in this policy if user-maintained files, programs or services are believed to have been operating in violation of either law or policy.

C. To inspect or check the configuration of computer and network resources for compliance with this policy and to take appropriate actions it deems necessary to protect university computer and network resources.

D. The university can apply the provisions of this policy and the rights reserved to the university without prior notice to the user.

B. Protecting Passwords:
• Choose a password that is memorable.
• Try to avoid writing down passwords and under no circumstances leave a password in a place readily accessible to others.
• A user should not give password to other users. ITS will never ask for your password to complete a support query or other tasks. The only person who needs to know a user password is the user him-or-herself.
• The user should take care when entering the password to prevent others from seeing what was typed.
• Users should not enter their passwords into computers or websites unless they are sure that it is a university related system/website.
• Don’t reveal a password directly or indirectly to ANYONE.
• Don’t reveal a password on questionnaires or security forms.
• Don’t reveal a password to co-workers while on vacation.
• If someone demands a password, refer them to this document or have them to contact IT Services.
• Don’t store the passwords in a file on any computer system (including PDA, Mobile phones, or similar devices) without encryption.
• If an account or password is suspected to have been compromised, change the password immediately.

Leaving a Computer Unattended
If you are leaving your work area, make sure to lock your computer. If you are leaving your work area for a few minutes or leaving for the day, make sure your workstation (or laptop) is secured and that you have logged out of all applications. Don’t just power off the desktop and leave your application session logged in.

Also, make sure sensitive or confidential information is not lying on your desk when you leave, even for a short time. Whether it’s a computer disk, USB or paper, lock it in a desk drawer. And don’t forget about paper-based information! It requires the same protection you take for electronic information.

Computer Issuance
• Computers (laptop/desktop/PDAs/handheld) are issued only to employees in a full-time position. For various reasons, including budgetary ones, it is not possible for the university to provide laptops to all employees.
• Persons not directly employed by the Alfaisal including, but not limited to, students, volunteers, retired employees, employees hired on a per diem basis or consultants, or employees on extended leave or with an employment status of ‘inactive” shall not be eligible for the issuance of any computing device.
• Employees by default are issued a standard desktop computer, based on the job related duties and responsibilities. Desktops are generally more powerful than laptops.
• Employees are eligible to have only single unit (Desktop / Laptop) only based on their eligibility. Executives (grade 14 and above) are eligible to have multiple units.
Criteria for laptop eligibility
Eligible employees to receive ITS defined standard laptop computers must fulfill one of the following criteria:

- Must be a member of executive management (group 14 and above).
- An employee receiving approval from their manager and meeting one or more of the following criteria: Significant time (average of 50% or more) spent outside the office at the request of the university.
- Their jobs require constant accessibility. Use of a specialized software. Frequent travelling (on and off campus). Perform field related activities (Exhibitions, Road shows, school visits, IT support etc.). Meet criteria of security policy and departmental approvals (IT Director or business unit head for staff and Deans of respective college for the faculty).
- The policy also recognizes the need for some shared departmental laptop.

Responsibility
Users are expected to take precautions to ensure that laptops & Desktop are not stolen, lost, or damaged. If laptop or desktop is lost, stolen, or otherwise damaged such that they cannot be restored to normal working order, the employee may be responsible for the prorated cost of the laptop or desktop (first year or less: 100%; second year or less, 70%; third year or less, 40%; Above 3 years, 25%). In case of theft or loss within the campus, the user must file a report with the university Security Department if stolen outside the campus user must file a report with the police and should provide a copy of the police report to the IT Services within 48 hours of the discovery of the loss.

This policy has been developed to ensure that essential records and documents of the University are retained for the required length of time. This will be achieved by filing documents and records in accordance with the need for future access to these records and while at the same time ensuring safe and secure shortage of important University's records.

Policy Details

1. The intention of this policy is to provide clear guidelines to all employees regarding the appropriate filing, retention and disposal of University’s records and information via an agreed archiving process.

2. The University has an obligation to implement and preserve good archiving procedures and processes to protect its records and information.

3. Each Department within the University is responsible for the filing and storage of its own records and documentation. As far as possible this shall be within the same Department or close to the area of work within the University’s premises if frequent day-to-day access is required.

4. Local filing procedures regarding the archiving of files and destruction of files reaching their destruction date shall be agreed on with each College / Department.

5. As Colleges / Departments are responsible for their own filing and archiving. There is NO need for other departments to retain duplicate copies, unless they have a specific need for their own purposes, e.g. Finance & Accounting will file or archive ALL invoices. Therefore, individual departments will avoid keeping duplicate records.

6. To use filing/storage space to its best advantage within colleges / departments there shall be a discipline to constantly review whether the records need to be archived.

7. The Facility Department is responsible for managing and allocation of space for all closed files to be archived in the University's central archives.

8. It is the responsibility of all line managers and staff to ensure that records and information are filed and archived correctly.

9. It is the responsibility of all line managers to identify and destroy or archive unnecessary records and paperwork on a regular basis.

10. It is the responsibility of all employees to keep information of a confidential nature safe and properly filed for easy access and reference.

11. Every employee will be responsible for the management of archive records for their business areas under the advice of their line managers.

12. The HR Department is responsible for maintaining employees’ personnel files and records in safe and fire proof cabinets.

13. The HR Department will adopt appropriate and adequate security measures for storage of and access to HR archival records in whatever format, dependent on the record type.

14. Shredding of University’s documents and files are only allowed after the expiry of the retention period.
4.5.1 Filing

1. Copies of all incoming and outgoing documents shall be filed in a systematic manner according to their nature either sequentially or by date.
2. Filing system shall be capable of preserving necessary information and of retrieving it accurately and quickly when required.
3. Department Administrative Assistants/Secretaries shall coordinate with their Department Managers to design the filing system that is most suitable for their business requirements and operations.
4. The basic elements that shall be available in an effective filing system are:
   - The method or combination of indexing methods.

12. All incoming documents shall be filed in a systematic manner according to their nature either sequentially or by date.

13. It is extremely important to note that each box of records that is sent to the Central Archives has a cost implication in terms of the cost of moving the record, the cost of storing the record for the agreed retention period and the cost of retrieval.

4.5.3 Retrieval of Records from Central Archives

1. Only complete boxes will be retrieved from the University’s Central Archives, not individual files.

2. Retrieval can be arranged by completing the Retrieval Form (Alfaisal University AD-08 Retrieval Form) which shall indicate the Box Reference Number and File Number if appropriate.

3. The Requester for records retrieval shall fill out the above form and send it to the Facility Department stating the number of box and the contents of the box.

4. Boxes can only be retrieved by fax or by email with an official Retrieval Form including and authorized signature from the manager or supervisor of the requesting department.

5. Archive boxes that need to be returned to storage can either be returned immediately or await the next collection.

4.5.4 Records Retention

1. The records that are eligible to become archived may need to be kept permanently because they are evidential, or for some other legal reason, they may be a historical record of the University, they may have a wider value to the community or they may have a business need value.

2. All University files, information and documents that are no longer needed in day-to-day operations shall be retained for a specific period of time in the University’s central archives depending on their importance.

3. Each Department shall develop a Records Retention Schedule for all its records and documentation specifying the type of documents as well as the retention period for each type of records.

4. All records that are kept at the University’s archive will be included in the Records Retention Schedules.
