

Dr. Muhammad Anan

Dean, College of Engineering

Dr. Muhammad Anan is presently the Acting Dean for college of Engineering at Alfaisal University, Riyadh, KSA. He is also the Chairman and Professor of Software Engineering Department since February 2017.

Prior to this he has provided his services to the University under the capacity of Vice Dean of Academic and Student Affairs, College of Engineering (2015-17), Assistant Professor of Software Engineering Department (2014-16), Assistant Professor of Computer Engineering (2014-15). He has also attained vast academic teaching experience Internationally at the Purdic University Calumet, USA (2008-14), Abu Dhabi University (2010-14) and University of Missouri-Kansas City (2006-07).

Dr. Anan has acquired an impressive industrial work experience over a period of 12 years (1996-2008). During this time he worked for several notable organizations such as Sprint & IBM, which are two of the Fortune 500 US companies and also Kansas City Power & Light (KCPL) & Schlumberger- GeoQuest (KSA & Oman).

Dr. Anan has shared his commendable expertise and knowledge through several publications. He has more than 30 publications to his name which he presented in corresponding conferences. He has also made contributions in several books related to his subject. He has had the honour of giving several technical presentations in renowned Universities and High-tech companies. He has also been granted several honors, awards and Grants over a span of 2 decades.

Dr. Anan's teaching interests and areas of research includes computer networks, cloud computing, software defined networking, future Internet architectures, wireless sensor networks, embedded systems, computer architecture, visualization and software engineering.